

DEFINITE STEP IN MEXICAN MATTER IS PLANNED BY U. S.

AUTHORITATIVE STATEMENT IS GIVEN OUT—PRESIDENT WIL-SON REVOLVING SEVERAL COURSES, WILL MAKE DECIS-ION UPON RETURN.

FACTIONS FAIL TO NEED ADVICE

Most Probable Course Will be to Urge Carranza to Confer With Other Leaders—Failing, Conference Opposing Heads Will be Called in Northern Mexico.

Washington, July 26.—A definite
step toward settling the Mexican problem will be taken by the United States government in the near future. Authoritative announcement to this effect was made today at the state department, although the nature of the contemplated action was not disclosed.
President Wilson is understood to be revolving several suggested courses.
His decision probably will not become known before his return from Cornish,
N. H.

Mr. Wilson is known to have been reviewing the situation for some time,
the warring Mexican factions having failed to meet his suggestion of two months ago, that they fix up their differences and restore peace. Apparently, he has determined that the other measures, which the Washington government announced it must take if the battle of the factions continued,
must now be resorted to.

The president's most probable course
it was reported tonight, would be to urge General Carranza for a conference, to confer with other faction leaders, in an effort to bring about peace. Should Carranza again refuse this plan it is said contemplates efforts to assemble other Mexican leaders, who will represent the majority of the Mexican people. Such a conference, it has been suggested, might be held in northern Mexico if it is possible to free it from military interference. If not, it might be held across the border of the United States.

If such a step is taken by the United States, it is not known whether President Wilson will issue another address to the Mexican people and leaders, or whether the second suggestion for a conference will be sent to various chiefs through official representatives of this government.

Changes in the military situation in the vicinity of Mexico City were reported today from several sources.
The Carranza agency here was advised
from Vera Cruz that General Gonzales was returning to Mexico City, the Villa flying column under General Pioero having fled northward from Pachuca without battle. A state department report from Mexico City dated July 26 said the capital was quiet and that water and light service had been restored; that the food situation was causing great concern. The Zapata forces were reported at that time 200 miles from the city.

The Carranza agency statement tonight said:

General Gonzales was yesterday preparing for immediate re-occupation of Mexico City and the detachments of Zapata forces, which have been entering and leaving the city daily, have dispersed toward the south.

Reports that a band of Yaquis attacked a town north of Guaymas on the west coast, killing eighteen persons,
no Americans being among them, were officially confirmed. The Yaquis ambushed their pursuers.

Julapa has been taken by the Carranza forces, according to advices today and communication from Tampico

SUMMARY OF WAR

While there is a comparative lull in the fighting in southeastern Poland, measured by the vicious attacks last week, there has been no lull in the German attack on the northwest of Warsaw and northward of this region
over the Polish border in the governments of Kovno and Courland.

Along the Narva, despite the obstinate resistance of the Russians, the Germans have forced a crossing of the river. Above and below the fortress of Ostrolenka the Russians are being slowly pushed back toward the Bug river and the Germans are advancing toward the fortifications around Novogorodsk and Warsaw.

A German air raid on the Vistula bridge at Warsaw resulted in the killing of several civilians and the capture of a large number of Russians.
It is claimed by the Germans and minor gains in the Chorn-Lubin region.

The advance of the Germans southward from Courland through Kovno
evidently with the intention of capturing the railway lines leading to Petrograd and the junction of the line running from Vilna to Libau, which would give them control of the railroad to the Baltic. Their next move probably will be eastward against the Kovno-Dvinsk line at Dvinsk, in the capture of which town Petrograd would be isolated from direct communication with Poland.

The fighting in the western war theatre consists mainly of artillery engagements and sapping operations
with no material gains by either side.

GERMAN OPERATIONS TO NORTH OF WARSAW

MACKENSEN'S EFFORT TO THROW FORCES ASTRI-DE RAILWAY FAILS.

Capital Still Holds Out But Belief is That Its Loss is But Matter of Time.

London, July 26.—Field Marshal von Mackensen's sustained effort to throw any considerable body of Austro-German troops astride the Lublin-Chelm railway having to date met with no success, the Germans now are centering their main offensive north of the Warsaw salient and having crossed the Narwa river along a forty-mile front, are driving the Russians toward the Bug where it joins the Narwa,
north of the Polish capital.

Warsaw still holds out, but the general belief here is that its loss is but a matter of time.

Dispatches reaching London tonight
from Petrograd predict that the much discussed climax to the great struggle
in Poland will come within a fortnight
with simultaneous attacks on the city from the north and south. In the meantime, Gen. von Buelow's troops, advancing south from Courland, are 35 miles southeast of Shavli, having reached the Poniewesch railway junction, linked with the Vilna-Dvinsk line, which the German cavalry is cutting the more important Kovno-Vilna line. The effective German cavalry in this area is estimated at Petrograd at 30,000.

The reported cession by Turkey to Bulgaria of the Turkish portion of the Dedegatch railway has created considerable discussion in England, but Bulgarian legation at London insists that it had no confirmation of such an arrangement. It is stated in circles professing to understand the situation that it would have no effect on Bulgaria's neutrality, although this,
of course, is debatable.

By a treaty signed at Constantinople, Turkey granted Bulgaria the free use of the line for ten years, but this allies gained considerable ground, according to the narrative.

"Any one who has not seen the ground," says the writer, "can have no conception of the obstacles our heroic infantry is meeting in gaining even a few yards of fresh trenches. The Turks now withdraw their men down communicating trenches, during a bombardment. Thus our infantry is forced to march over three lines with only small losses. Parties of men get too far forward and frequently are lost for hours, while it is uncommon for our men to gain possession of an advance trench while the Turks are still holding sections of those behind
it. Thus after each advance it takes a long time to straighten out and continue the advance."

It is bludgeoned work—brutal and unattractive and giving little or no scope for skill in tactics or strategy.

Operations in Dardanelles.

Paris, July 27, 12:35 a. m.—A Havas
dispatch from Athens says:

"A bombardment of the Turkish positions inside the Dardanelles has continued for the last three days, the object of the allies being to destroy the enemy's position on the Asiatic shores.
"Negotiations with the British government on the subject of the seizure of the Dardanelles, it is said, have reached a satisfactory conclusion, the British government have concluded to recognize Greece's full rights in consideration of vigorous measures taken by Greece to prevent the shipment of contraband."

Pierce fighting continues on the eastern sectors of the Austro-Italian front, especially on the Dobrodo plateau,
where the Italians have attacked
relentlessly but, according to Vienna,
have secured only temporary local successes which the Austrians afterward counterbalanced by recapturing their original positions.

In the region of Krn the Italians are declared to have suffered heavy losses
from the Austrian artillery after having been repulsed in hand-to-hand fighting in which the Austrians rolled boulders down the mountain side on their foes. An Austrian aviator has dropped bombs on Verona.

Successes for the British against the Turks along the Euphrates river and the capture of the town of Nasiriyeh are announced by London.
Five hundred Turks were slain in front of the main positions and several hundred others were captured.
The British casualties number between 300 and 400.

The American steamer Leelanaw
has been sunk by a German submarine off the Orkney Islands. The steamer had aboard a cargo of flax and was bound from Archangel for Belfast.

The commander of the submarine stopped the Leelanaw and, finding that she was carrying contraband,
ordered her crew off and sent the vessel to the bottom. The American consul at Dundee, to which port the crew
are proceeding, will institute a thorough investigation of all the circumstances.

Still another neutral vessel, the Norwegian steamer Finnmark, has been sunk by German submarines in the North Sea.

RESpite OF 2 DAYS IS GIVEN BECKER: MAY GET NEW TRIAL

COURT JUSTICE FORD, DATE
OF EXECUTION IS CHANGED
FROM WEDNESDAY TO FRIDAY.
ARGUMENTS ARE HEARD.

UPON REQUEST OF SUPREME COURT JUSTICE FORD, DATE
OF EXECUTION IS CHANGED
FROM WEDNESDAY TO FRIDAY.
ARGUMENTS ARE HEARD.

NO NECESSITY NEW WITNESSES

Cockran Speaks for Three Hours
Presenting Application—Reviews
the Events Prior to Murder—Says Execution Will be on a Technicality—Says Asks No Mercy.

New York, July 26.—Upon the request of Supreme Court Justice Ford
for more time to consider the application for a new trial made by Charles Becker, under sentence of death for instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, the execution of the former police lieutenant was postponed tonight from Wednesday until Friday morning of this week.

Justice Ford today heard arguments for and against the application. At their conclusion he reserved decision and counsel have until noon tomorrow
to file briefs. Tonight the justice telephoned to Warden Osborne of Sing Sing prison and requested that the execution be postponed. As the electrotouting can take place legally any day this week, at the discretion of the warden, this request was granted.

Justice Ford intimated that he would decide the case as quickly as possible. Tonight it was stated that he might not finish his deliberations
before Tuesday night or Wednesday.
The attempt made by Becker's attorneys to have the condemned man
as well as the authors of several affidavits alleged to contain new evidence and the persons mentioned in them,
called to the witness stand in the proceedings failed, for the time being at least. Justice Ford stated that he saw no necessity for calling witnesses.

In conclusion, Mr. Cockran said:
"The evidence in this case is not new evidence, I propose to accept them on their face value," he said.

Justice Ford then fixed tomorrow
noon as the expiration of time for filing briefs if any are to be filed.

Speaks for Three Hours.

Mr. Cockran spoke for three hours in presenting the application. He reviewed the events prior to Rosenthal's murder; circumstances leading to the confession of Jack Rose, "Bridgie" Weber, Harry Vallon and the circumstances of the two trials. On this foundation Mr. Cockran presented the evidence in the case, and the affidavits made by Joseph Murphy, claiming to have overheard the informers conspire
in the Tombs to "frame" Becker.

In conclusion, Mr. Cockran said:
"If Becker is executed, he will be executed on a technicality. The footsteps of justice are enmeshed. Becker is ready for his fate. He has asked mercy of no one, but for the first time
we have a man who is about to be executed who cannot submit his fate to the hands of an impartial chief executive. The government of this state is officially who constructed the case against Becker. Save the state from the stain of taking life in a case where the preponderance of proof is contrary to the guilt of the man who is to be executed."

Assistant District Attorney Taylor,
who opposed Becker's appeal, required
only an hour and a quarter to present his case. He said the case could be tried in a new trial only on the ground of newly discovered evidence and declared that none of the affidavits presented in Becker's application contained new evidence.

When the assistant district attorney completed his argument the state submitted affidavits made by Rose, Webber, Mr. Vallon, and Becker, and the affidavits of the state's witnesses.

Mr. Taylor, who is assistant district attorney, prosecuted Becker at the first trial; James E. Smith, deputy assistant district attorney, who prepared the evidence against Becker, and Deputy Warden Charles H. Johnson of Sing Sing.

Rose Contradicts Statements.

Rose's affidavit is in rebuttal of the affidavits of B. H. Kaufman, E. C.
Ginty, Joseph Murphy, Louis Harris
and Becker. In his affidavit, Rose contradicted all statements involving him,
made in the affidavits of the defense.

Briefly, Rose declares he had seen Rosenthal at various times during the three weeks preceding the latter's death, contradicting Kaufman's statement that Rosenthal had not seen Rose
during this time; that he, at no time,
saw any one but Becker who was to offer Rosenthal a sum of money or that he had $5,000 which he was to give Rosenthal for going away the night before the murder, as alleged by Ginty.

The state's case against Becker is guilty of the offense of which he was convicted.

Referring to the affidavit of Harry
M. Taylor, who is assistant district attorney, who is prosecuting Becker, Mr.
D. (Big Tim) Sullivan, state senator
at the time of the murder, reciting statements alleged to have been made by Rose, during an automobile ride, in which Becker, Applebaum and Rose
were together, Rose branded them
"absolutely untrue." He denies he said, "Some one ought to croak Rosenthal," and that Becker replied, "No,
this is lucky."

Mrs. Rosenthal declares she was in her husband's confidence and that he never told her he was about to receive a sum of money to leave New York or for any similar purpose. She denies that Harry Applebaum ever called on her after her husband's death with messages from Senator Sullivan.

Becker Is Notified.

Oshing, N. Y., July 26.—Charles
Becker was notified tonight by Frank Cassidy he would not die Wednesday.
Becker received the news in a manner indicating that he almost had given up hope of escaping the death penalty.

WORK AFTER COMPANY MAKES PROPOSITION.

CHARGED WITH INCITING A RIOT—OFFICER DECLARES PLANT WILL REOPEN AND LAW WILL BE ENFORCED—HAS ONE THOUSAND MEN TO SEE THAT ORDER PREVAILS.

New York, July 26.—Developments
in the strike situation at Bayonne, N. J., indicate that probably half of approximately 5000 employees of the Standard Oil company of New York
would return to work tomorrow morning.

In response to an appeal by Sheriff
Eugene Kinkead tonight, the English speaking men and American citizens
among the employees agreed to return to work, although the foreign speaking element earlier in the day had refused an offer from the company which the sheriff had urged them to accept. It is estimated that 1500 men signified their intention of returning to work. What the foreign speaking workers will do is problematical.

New York, July 26.—Two important developments marked the progress of the strike situation at Bayonne, N. J., today. The first was the refusal by the men of another offer from the Standard Oil company, through Supt.
G. B. Hennessy, which Sheriff Kinkead and city officials appeared to view favorably. The other was the arrest of Jeremiah J. Baily, chairman of the strikers' committee and virtually their recognized leader.

Sheriff Kinkead presented the superintendent's offer to about 800 strikers
late today, at a meeting which he dominated by virtue of his right, it was stated, as the county's chief peace officer. He walked in with a squad of men, and the strikers' committee proceedings and had two of his men under an American flag and asked the strikers to cheer the colors, which they did.

He then called on all who were not strikes to leave the hall and about a dozen men who responded were escorted from the hall.

One man who declared himself a social revolutionist, was placed under arrest. After stating that no man could speak without his permission, the sheriff announced the arrest of the professed Baily, chairman of the strikers' committee, but no demonstration was made.

Reads Hennessy's Proposition.

The sheriff then read the proposition of Mr. Hennessy, which was in effect an offer to recommend to his superiors that the men be granted an increase in wages just as soon as they return to work.

The sheriff urged the men to accept the offer, but a majority voted not to accept it.

This action caused the sheriff to say
to the men:

"Unless you accept the offer, I propose to have the Standard Oil company re-open its works and it can accept you as employees or not just as it chooses. I will protect all men who want to go to work."

The sheriff added that he had 1000
men now on duty and would enforce what he had said.

I. W. W. Member Arrested.

It was learned after that Frank Tannenbaum of New York, an Industrial Worker of the World, was arrested during the meeting charged with inciting to riot. While Tannenbaum was being taken to jail in the sheriff's automobile, he made some remark
which offended the sheriff, and the latter, it is said, slapped the man's face.

The strikers claimed that all of the 2500 men in the plant would join them tomorrow.

The county grand jury was ordered held in session to take cognizance of any evidence of criminal negligence in connection with the catastrophe. The jury went over the wreck today. Members of the coroner's jury also inspected the steamer.

Identification of victims was all but complete tonight except for corpses
still in the river.

More than $200,000 was subscribed
for the relief of the victims and individuals during the day to alleviate any suffering among those who had lost their source of support in the tragedy.

Tragedy of Disaster.

One of the tragedies of the disaster was enacted inside the steel hull of the Eastland during the two hours that it intervened between the time the boat capsized and the cutting of holes that would permit of the rescue of survivors. Many struggled and prayed during that period and saw fellow passengers loosen their hold and slip into the water.

AMERICAN SHIP IS SUNK BY GERMANS

ADDS TO ALREADY STRAINED RELATIONS OF TWO COUN-TRIES, SAYS OFFICIALS.

Imperial Government Insists on Own Interpretation of the Treaty of 1828.

POOL HALL OWNER GETS INJUNCTION FROM JUDGE CLARK

THROUGH ATTORNEYS SAM REED
APPLIES FOR PERMANENT OR-DER RESTRAINING COUNTY AT-TORNEY FROM INTERFERING
WITH HIM.

Washington, July 26.—Destruction of the American ship Leelanaw by a German submarine drew sharply to the attention of the United States government today the fact that Germany was insisting on her own interpretation of the Prussian-American treaty of 1828 in disregarding the two American notes on the subject.

In three instances of American ships
destroyed or damaged—the Gulfport,
the Nebraska and the William P.
Frye—Germany has agreed to pay damages and in the last case the German government took the position that it had not violated the treaty of 1828,
but had exercised a right given her by the inference from the language of the treaty.

Officials here were surprised at the destruction of the Leelanaw, but beyond adding an aggravating incident to the already strained relations between the two governments there was no indication that the case would lead to a new turn in the general situation.

The fact that the crew of the vessel was saved, and the position that the German government took, but there were evidences of apprehension that if Germany continues to promise payments yet destroys more American ships a new situation might be created which would require further warning to the Berlin government.

The fact that the Leelanaw carried a cargo of flax, declared absolute contraband by Germany on April 18, does not alter the view of the United States government that the contraband might have been removed and the vessel spared. Under the general rules of international law the destruction of a neutral vessel carrying contraband was not admitted until the famous Knight Commander case in the Russian-Japanese war. The declaration of London in 1909 embodied the principle as applicable in extreme cases, but stipulated that passengers and crew must be transferred to a place of safety and the case itself later
sent to a prize court.

The case of the Wm. P. Frye took its stand irrespective of the general principles of international law as set forth in the unratified Declaration of London, going back to a prior authority—the Prussian-American treaty of 1828—as a document that covered completely any attacks on American vessels carrying contraband. That treaty especially permits traffic in contraband by the United States or Prussia
in time of war and outlines the conditions under which the question of contraband owned by citizens or other power may be confiscated, but can only be detained and paid for. Vessels must be allowed to proceed after giving up their contraband.

In the case of the Wm. P. Frye the cargo was foreign-owned and no claim for it was presented. The ownership of the cargo of the Leelanaw has not been reported yet, but the question of cargo, unless American-owned, would not, in the view of officials, affect the case. They hold that the American ship should have been immune from attack.

It was indicated that the United States would follow the same course
as in the Frye case, disputing Germany's right to destroy American ships even if carrying contraband.

Wilson Awaits Details.

Cornish, N. H., July 26.—President Wilson was waiting tonight for details of the sinking of the American steamship Leelanaw by a German submarine. Up to a late hour tonight
he had received only newspaper dispatches telling of the attack.

The president is expected to have the intention of returning to Washington
if any important business should develop, but he made no plans tonight
for going back.

Interest at London.

London, July 26.—All members of the crew of the American steamer Leelanaw are expected to reach Dundee tomorrow when it will be possible to obtain a full account of the sinking of the vessel by a German submarine
off the Orkney Islands Sunday night.
The case has created widespread discussion in England.

Only meager accounts of the destruction of the Leelanaw have been received, but it is clear the submarine gave the vessel no warning, and the steamer was completely wrecked, the crew to collect parts of their effects before taking them aboard the underwater crabs, and the explosion of the use of shell fire and bombs, sent the vessel to the bottom.

POOL HALL OWNER GETS INJUNCTION FROM JUDGE CLARK

THROUGH ATTORNEYS SAM REED
APPLIES FOR PERMANENT OR-DER RESTRAINING COUNTY AT-TORNEY FROM INTERFERING
WITH HIM.

Whether or not the pool hall law
will be enforced in McLennan county
is now up to the courts, a test case
having been filed yesterday in the Seventy-fourth district court, entitled Sam Reed against John B. Mc-Namara, county attorney, et al, seeking to enjoin the county attorney interfering with his operation of a pool hall at 102 South Second street.
The supreme court of Texas has held the law unconstitutional and the court of criminal appeals has held it valid. Now the question will have to be tried out as to which governs.

When the case was filed by Williams & Williams, attorneys for Reed,
they asked and Judge Erwin J. Clark granted them a temporary injunction until the case could be heard. Judge Clark Williams said last night that the case was brought, he supposed, so that Reed would feel free in starting up his pool hall. So far as is known,
no others have been open up yet.

County Attorney McNamara was in Moody yesterday, attending justice court, and did not know of the case
having been filed until informed of the fact by the Morning News. He said that as soon as he had seen the papers in the action he would look into the matter of what course was best to pursue.

When the two higher courts' opinions had both been promulgated, Mr.
McNamara wrote Attorney General Looney, asking his advice as to which decision should be followed. General Looney, in his reply, advised that in holding of the court of criminal appeals governed and McNamara an-

Of course, not having seen the pa-

"No complaints have been filed with me of any pool halls operating, and in the present instance, of course, I could not say what my course would be until after a careful examination of the papers."

Machinists Threaten to Strike Again at Bridgeport Factory

Bridgeport, Conn., July 26.—Unless the labor situation at Remington Arms and Ammunition company's plant is adjusted by Wednesday afternoon another strike will be called, according to a statement here tonight by J. J. Kepler, international vice president of the Machinists' union.

It had been expected that all strikers would be back at work today after the announcement last week of labor leaders that an agreement had been reached with the company for a weekly working schedule of forty-eight hours with no decrease in wages. Complications arose today
when returning strikers were refused employment. Manufacturers say only about half a dozen "scabers" were turned away, but members of the Machinists' union assert the number reached 150.

TESTIMONY TAKEN IN THE ELDER TRIAL

MARLIN CASE IS ATTRACTING UNUSUAL ATTENTION—BIG CROWDS IN COURT ROOM.

Indictments Against Vincent Elder,
March and Higgins Dismissed.
Recital of Shootings.

Marlin, Tex., July 26.—The Elder cases were called this morning in district court, and the indictments against Will and Vincent Elder, March and Higgins were dismissed. A jury was selected to try Lee Elder, charged with the alleged murder of the little Walker baby in the Lee-Walker tenant feud on the Elder farm. The trial is attracting much attention, and the court room was filled with large numbers of men, women and children.

The taking of evidence commenced at 4:30. Dr. A. T. Ezell testified to bullet holes in both Lee Elder and the deceased Walker baby. The state then introduced Frank Smith, who was with the Walkers when the alleged attack occurred.

Smith told in detail the story of seeing Lee Elder creeping along the road, a gun ready in both hands, stating that when Walker and Smith saw him they rose from their seats in the yard. Elder started running toward them and fired the first shot. Walker grabbed the gun and fired. Smith fired the third shot, then Elder and Smith fired again, then Walker. Elder turned about and left. He declared the shot used by Elder was buckshot because he dug them from the wall.

Pen Probers Are Meeting at Austin

Austin, Tex., July 26.—The penitentiary investigating committee on the state senate met here today to consummate plans for final investigation of several state farms, and also for the compilation of data, statistics, etc., to form a permanent record. This will be submitted to the legislature for consideration, and likewise to Governor Ferguson. It will embody recommendations for some changes, and it is understood that based on this investigation a bill will be introduced by several state senators.

The reports of Arthur A. Stiles, state reclamation engineer, were considered today. Those in the city at this time are Senator John H. Bailey of Cuero, H. P. Brelsford of Eastland county, W. C. Morrow of Hill county. Chairman James Harley of Seguin and Steve King, senator from Nacogdoches, are expected to arrive during the day.

Texas Farmers Are Gathering at Austin

Austin, Tex., July 26.—Over 300 delegates to the fifth annual session of the Texas State Farmers' Institute reached here this morning, although the institute does not formally open until tomorrow morning. Indications are there will be upward of 2000 here by tomorrow. As fast as the delegates arrive they are registering at headquarters at the state house. President T. A. McGalliard of the institute and other officers are already here. The Cooke county delegation was the first to reach Austin this morning. The delegates are being accommodated as fast as they arrive.

Many women, members of the Texas Farm Women's Assembly, are also here to attend their first state assembly.

G. H. and H. Elects Officers at Galveston

Galveston, Tex., July 26.—Officers of the Galveston, Houston & Henderson railway have been elected by the directors as follows: James M. Wallace, New York, president; J. H. Hill, Galveston, vice president, general manager and treasurer; J. W. Daly, Galveston, secretary.

It was Mr. Hill's twentieth consecutive election to the position of vice president and general manager.

Texan Deported by Carranza Officials

Galveston, Tex., July 26.—Carranza, in official dispatches received here today, declared that he had yesterday deported Harry Berlinger, native Texan, who was representing a typewriter concern and doing a large business, because Berlinger had spoken disrespectfully of him and other constitutional officials. "Berlinger used filthy language regarding constitutional officials, and was very close to Huerta."

Ramsey Leaves the Hillsboro Mirror

Hillsboro, Tex., July 26.—Summer M. Ramsey, for the past two and a half years city editor of the Evening Mirror, has resigned his position to accept a position with the Houston Post as telegraph editor. He is succeeded by E. C. Wedemeyer of Temple.

Gatesville Returns. Gatesville, July 26.—Official returns from thirteen voting boxes in this county give the following vote on the amendments. There are thirty-two boxes in the county:

Voting, for 143, against 410; supreme court, for 58, against 489; road tax, for 101, against 453; students' loan, for 61, against 452; levees, for 62, against 487; separation, for 114, against 437.

Two of the above boxes gave majorities for the voting amendment.

The Price She Pays

There is hardly an American woman nowadays who can keep pace with the demands made upon her time and energy without paying the penalty of ill health. It may be that dreadful backache, dragging pains, headaches, nervousness or the tortures of a displacement. It is the price she pays. To women in this condition Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound comes as a boon and a blessing. A simple remedy made from roots and herbs which brings glorious health to suffering women.

PRO-ANTI MIX-UP IN MARLIN COURT ROOM

DECISION ON PETITION FOR SEPARATE ELECTION RESULTS
IN BRUISED FACE.

Two Elections Are to be Held on August 12th to Decide the Matter.

Marlin, Tex., July 26.—Excitement at the Falls county court house today centered in the presentation of a petition by the citizens of West Falls asking for an election to be called to determine upon the question of having saloons in the two commissioners' precincts composing that half of the county, which cast a large majority in favor of prohibition in the recent county election.

The petition was strongly protested by Attorney Peck Oltor of this city, representing the citizens of Westphalia where one of the two saloons now operating is conducted, while Hon. Pat Lowellyn represented the pros. The court consumed the morning listening to arguments from both sides, while the court room was packed, every available standing room being occupied by either a pro or an anti.

At 2 o'clock the commissioners decided upon a secret ballot, which resulted in a tie. Judge Heffner then was forced to take the responsibility of deciding the question upon himself, and decided against the election.

The decision produced an uproar and a fracas in the court room, which resulted in one man having his face injured. Two charges were filed as the outcome, one in the justice court and one before the sheriff.

This was followed by the commissioners ordering two separate elections each to be held August 12, each commissioners' precinct holding its election separately.

To Pardon 25 Convicts.

Austin, Tex., July 26.—Pardons for twenty-five convicts will be issued shortly by Governor Ferguson, following his recent tour of investigation of some of the state farms and penitentiaries. While looking into crop conditions, finances, etc., the governor lent an ear to some pardon cases. It is understood that those issued are for parties friendly and infirm, or in failing health.

Pardon Board on Vacation.

Austin, Tex., July 26.—The state board of pardons today made an announcement that no cases of extreme importance would be considered for at least one month, owing to the vacation period of the board. At the present time, Senator Sebastian is on his vacation, and upon his return Judge Blakeslee will leave the city. It is impossible to act on many of the cases finally until the full membership of the board is present.

Shooting at Austin.

Austin, Tex., July 26.—Charles Joseph Thiel, a young man about 23 years of age, who lives on a farm north of town, was shot twice this morning by corn stealers, when he went out to rout them from his field. His own gun was taken from him and used by the thieves. Mr. Thiel was found about daybreak and brought into Austin for an operation. His chances for recovery are slight. One arrest has been made in the case, but no formal charges have been filed.

Nacogdoches Warehouse Burns.

Nacogdoches, Tex., July 26.—One of the warehouses of W. T. Wilson Grain Co., opposite the union depot here, burned last night. Loss $7,500; insurance $5000.

The manager of the company claims the fire was incendiary.

Rev. arker Quits Ministry.

Waxahatchie, Tex., July 26.—Rev. A. C. Parker, pastor of the Main street Christian church here, has resigned his position after four years of service. He is leaving for a national secretaryship of the Texas industrial congress.

Hillsboro Returns.

Hillsboro, July 26.—The vote in the four boxes of Hillsboro on the proposed constitutional amendments: No. 1, for 86, against 170; No. 2, for 57, against 220; No. 3, for 42, against 193; No. 4, for 40, against 306; No. 5, for 72, against 190; No. 6, for 165, against 156.

No country boxes have as yet reported.

Temple Company Mustered Out.

Temple, Tex., July 26.—Failing to attain standard after two inspections, Company B, Second Texas Infantry national guard, of this city, has been ordered mustered out.

Shot and Killed by Wife.

Cleburne, Tex., July 26.—M. C. Summers who lives near Keene, Texas, was shot and killed by his wife yesterday morning. Mrs. Summers admitted the killing. She is today in jail here. The cause of the killing is not known.

German Provincial Press Declares U. S. Note Unsatisfactory

Berlin, July 26.—(Via London, 10:40 p. m.)—The comment of the principal provincial newspapers agrees with that of the Berlin press that the American note is entirely unsatisfactory and leaves Germany no alternative except to continue her submarine warfare against hostile commerce, regardless of consequences. "Great Britain as a result of the forthcoming note from Washington sees fit to change her illegal blockade policy." The Koelnische Zeitung says:

"The German and American standpoints at the end are as far apart as at the beginning and an understanding is utterly impossible on the basis offered by the United States."

"Germany will neither disavow the sinking of the Lusitania nor offer indemnification for the lives of the reckless Americans who perished on the steamer. Germany will continue her submarine warfare in the same manner as in the past two months. She will continue to show consideration toward American ships and passengers and will hope, naturally, that developments will not lead to sharpening of relations with the United States."

The Frankfurter Zeitung also holds that Germany cannot make disavowal of or give compensation for the sinking of the Lusitania. The reasons are set forth as follows:

"First, because it would shift the blame to the shoulders of the brave officer who acted according to orders, and second, because payment of compensation would be misinterpreted as recognition that Germany was in the wrong."

The concluding phrase of the American note is described as "an earnest declaration whose significance and possible consequence are not open to doubt, but which cannot terrify us."

The newspaper continues:

"Germany cannot afford to abandon her submarine warfare because of threats and if President Wilson persist in his dogmatic views the world must bear the consequences."

The Frankfurter Zeitung, however, says that the last word has not been spoken and expresses the hope that it is still possible to reach an understanding.

both, were among those dragged out after holes in the hull had been cut.

"When the boat rolled over I grabbed Elizabeth and we both scrambled to the upper side," Olinger said. "We clung there to a post and looking down, we could see the water pouring in below us like fountains. It rushed along the stairs and spouted through port-holes. Men and women were floating around and screaming. Where we were there were about twenty women and seven men. The men assisted the women to places where they could cling until help arrived, but many sank during the first five minutes."

"I kissed Elizabeth and we made preparations to die. Some of the women became hysterical. Others were calm, clinging to the side of the boat and shivering in their wet clothes. The rescuers started to pull some of the men and women through the port-holes, but they were too small and they were forced to drop a number of them back."

The rescuers started to pull some of the men and women through the port-holes, but they were too small and they were forced to drop a number of them back."

J. Peterson, his wife and her sister were on the second deck on the port side and had the experience of being washed completely through the boat after a partition had given away.

"I can swim and I rose with the water," said Peterson. "The partition above me gave way, at least some of the windows did, and I went up through the cabin. I caught hold of a long beam supporting the upper deck with some others. This beam gave way and I had to swim again. I saw women and men come up all around me and a lot of them went down again. While I was hanging on, my wife came up and then her sister appeared. They had been carried up through the break in the partition, although neither could swim."

William Orlander, secretary of the Lake Seamen's union, said tonight there were many other ships on the Great Lakes as dangerous as the Eastland because of faulty construction. He held that the Eastland was not properly designed to be stable and that the water ballast system was not the main fault. He charged that United States inspectors under Captain Charles E. Whittell, chief of the lake district, had played into the hands of ship owners at the expense of sailors and passengers. He said this was shown by the fact that 31 ships passed by the inspectors in the Great Lakes since 1905, several of them taking all on board to death.

This statement and others of a similar nature caused the investigation to decide to look into the conditions of all vessels sailing from Chicago harbor.

Redfield to Conduct Probe.

Washington, July 26.—Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce will be in Chicago tomorrow to make personal charge of the department's investigation of the Eastland disaster.

Solicitor Thurman of the department, armed with all the records relating to the Eastland left here tonight to join the secretary and George Fisher, chief of the steamboat inspection service, who is touring the Pacific coast, probably will be called to Chicago also.

Senator Lewis of Illinois telegraphed both the departments of commerce and justice that a statement published in Chicago said the government had refused to countenance a federal investigation, and was shielding ship officials. A statement issued tonight at the department of justice said:

"The attorney general wired the United States attorney and the party in charge of the department's bureau of investigation at Chicago to give all possible assistance in development of the facts relating to the sinking of the steamer and that any statements that the department of justice had refused to countenance a federal investigation of the disaster were wholly without foundation."

Acting Secretary Sweet telegraphed a similar reply.

Texas Woman Not Abord.

Ennis, Texas, July 26.—Miss Louise Thiel, daughter of Mrs. W. O. Lottimer of this city, is in the Hawaiian Islands with a wireless telegraph company. The family received letters and photographs Saturday stating she would be there until fall.

The family is sure the Miss Thiel reported lost in the Eastland disaster is not their daughter.

to San Luis Potosi and Guanajuato is cut off.

A report from Vera Cruz with reference to the strike of the Huasteca Oil company's employees near Tampico says the strikers threaten to call a general strike of all oil well employees in the region unless their demands are granted within forty-eight hours. The report was dated Saturday. Counsel Sullivan, it is said, has made representations to the authorities to safeguard lives and property of foreigners.

The Carranza agency issued a statement tonight saying its information from the border was to the effect that a new convention had been formed by supporters of General Angeles, of Eduardo Torralba and of Eulalia Gutierrez, respectively, which had for its purpose the elimination of General Villa as head of the northern faction. The statement adds that Gov. Maytorena of Sonora and members of the Madero family had aligned themselves with the new movement.

Villa Attacks Monterrey.

El Paso, July 26.—Villa forces under Ramon Garza attacked Monterrey early today, according to a message received at Juarez tonight from General Villa at Torreon.

An earlier report, received by Villa Carranza, was that the Carranza forces had begun moving his sick and wounded to Victoria, Tampico and Matamoros. Fighting between Carranza and Monterrey has been in progress for several days, it is said, and both sides admit heavy losses. The Villa forces claim to have driven their opponents back into Monterrey and to have occupied Minero and Villa Garcia.

Mexican Aeroplane Falls.

Nogales, Ariz., July 26.—Pilot by James Dean, an American, who had William Glasco as an observer, a scouting aeroplane belonging to the Maytorena garrison at Nogales, Sonora, fell 300 feet today. The machine was wrecked but Dean and Glasco escaped with slight injuries.

General Carranza, in command of 1000 troops at Mazatlan, has joined the Villa cause, according to a dispatch received here today.

General Carranza is advancing on Mazatlan from Culiacan, it is stated. The Carranza gunboat Guerrero was reported at Guaymas last night.

Garza Issues Manifesto.

San Antonio, Tex., July 26.—Copies of a manifesto issued by General Ramon Garza, Carranza provisional governor of Nuevo Leon, have been received here. In his public statement, Garza said that the Carranza administration office has been abolished and its records taken over by the secretary of state and that all property confiscated by the Villistas or other political parties would be returned to its owners upon written request and proof of ownership.

The document also informs the citizens of Nuevo Leon that the law shall be administered equally to the poor and the farmer, the working man and the capitalist, and that as soon as General Carranza's government is firmly established the people made the people regarding distribution of land to the poor will be carried out in full. General Garza asks the co-operation of the people and declares he shall restore order and enforce the law of the land.

He announces he has already established and is successfully operating a system for the relief of the poor and that there is plenty of food available for immediate purposes and until another crop can be harvested.

Cease Operations at Tampico.

San Antonio, Tex., July 26.—A message from Tampico, dated July 20, (delayed in transmission) says:

"Operations in the oil fields in this adjoining districts have ceased because of the Mexican army employees alleged to have been hired by American organizations. More than 3000 employees, including about 100 specialists, are being kept out of employment by the closing of all wells. Riots, in which many were hurt, became so frequent and the protection offered by the military so inadequate that the oil fields were decided to be closed indefinitely. The La Aguila at Portrero del Llano, said to be producing about 20,000 barrels every twenty-four hours, is the only well of any consequence operating in the district."

"The guards around the properties have been doubled, and managers say no attempt will be made to operate until the labor troubles have been settled. The increase in pay demanded is 25 per cent."

Steps to Straighten Out Affairs of Fort Worth Savings Bank

Fort Worth, July 26.—With the city commission in special session to devise ways to raise money for municipal uses and the district court ordering a start on the audit, definite steps began this morning to straighten out the tangled affairs of the Fort Worth Savings Bank and Trust company, which closed its doors Friday and whose president, E. E. Baldrige, committed suicide Saturday.

The bank was the city depository and one of its officers the city treasurer. The city had over $200,000 on deposit in the institution and it is necessary to know exactly the status of current expenses. The first statement as to how much the bank will pay its depositors will be completed this week.

Buried for Thirty Minutes; Is Saved

Kansas City, July 26.—After being buried thirty minutes under fifteen feet of earth, a negro laborer was taken out alive here today. The man was at work in a trench to be used for laying out the banks, softened by recent rains, suddenly caved in. While being crushed down the negro managed to get one hand in the end of a conduit tube, making an opening through which he sucked enough air to keep him alive while a dozen men shoveled frantically to rescue him.

The man's body was crushed by the weight of the earth, but it is said he will recover. The trench was about 15 feet deep and the work was being done for a half hour by the crowd which gathered to watch the rescuers.

Wonderful Earth Product Attracts Wide Attention—Tests Made Daily.

Demonstrations and displays of Vitalitas, the wonderful earth product, are being conducted in many large cities. Perhaps no earth substance has ever attracted so much attention in so brief a time. The laboratories at Houston, Texas, the only place in the world where Vitalitas is extracted, are being rushed to meet the demand. Inquiries from everywhere pour in regarding it. Many come from people who have despaired of earthly help but who still cling to a faint hope that Nature may have produced something that will bring relief. They wonder if Vitalitas is that something.

In many cases it is performing real modern day miracles for the sick by banishing disease conditions where all other remedies have failed. It is giving back life to many on the brink of the grave and is demonstrating that Nature is the best doctor of all. No man or woman should despair if they have not tried this marvelous earth tonic.

Vitalitas assists Nature in bringing a new glow of vital force that sweeps away stomach troubles, ailments of liver, kidneys, bowels and blood. It has no harmful ingredients.

A. & M. SEPARATION SEEMS WAS DEFEATED

PROBABLY OFFICIAL RETURNS
MUST BE AWAITED BEFORE RESULT IS KNOWN.

All the Other Five Amendments to the Constitution Fail to Carry.

Dallas, July 26.—Probably the official returns will have to be awaited before the result of the separation amendment for Texas university and A. & M. college Saturday is known. Indications from unofficial returns today were that separation would run behind by a small margin. All the other five constitutional amendments failed to carry.

Incomplete returns indicate the following as probable selections for the academy in the Texas house of representatives:

District 13, Beaumont—S. B. Cooper, Jr.
District 15—Harry V. Fisher.
District 23, Ellis county—W. E. Cox.

ing of the incident, employ in some cases suggestive captions, such as "An unfriendly act." But because the American note laid so much stress on the demand that American lives on merchant ships should not be jeopardized without warning, it was difficult for the English mind to determine whether the sinking of the ship after the crew was taken off constituted what America would regard as a repetition of acts which she insists must cease.

E. H. Dennison, the American consul at Dundee, sent the Associated Press the following message tonight: "No details except that crew landed at Kirkwall this morning. Have ordered them sent to Dundee on tomorrow's boat."

When last seen the German submarine was in pursuit of a steamer, the smoke of which was observed after the sinking of the ship after the crew was taken off constituted what America would regard as a repetition of acts which she insists must cease.

Italians Occupy Pelagos.

Rome, July 26.—An official statement issued tonight says: "The island of Pelagos, an important point on account of its strategic situation, has been occupied by the Italian forces."

The Italian island group of Pelagos lies in the Adriatic sea about midway between the promontories of Greece and Dalmatia. The group consists of two islands, Grande and Piccola, great rocks rising 343 feet and 127 feet respectively above the sea. The position of the former renders it a good point of departure for vessels navigating the Adriatic.

MRS. AMANDA C. SHOOK DIES AT AGE OF 94

FOR ALMOST A CENTURY PIONEER WOMAN HAD LIVED IN TEXAS, NEVER LEAVING.

Heard Guns of San Jacinto—More Than a Hundred Descendants Are Survivors.

Mrs. Amanda C. Shook, 94 years old, died at 11:15 yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. E. Norris, 913 South Tenth street. She was born in Harris county, Texas, June 10, 1821, and had never been outside of the state during her life. Beside the daughter, at whose home she died, deceased is survived by the following children: T. Shook, Waco; Mrs. L. L. McPherson, Malone; W. R. Shook, Pecos, Okla.; T. S. Shook, Mart, and Mrs. C. A. Hawkins, Dallas, and 114 grand and great-grand children and fourteen great-great-grand children.

The funeral services will take place at 10 o'clock this morning from 913 South Tenth street, Rev. O. E. Bryan officiating with burial in Oakwood. Mrs. Shook had resided in Waco for the past eight years.

Mrs. Shook knew much of Texas' early history, and is one of the few survivors who heard the guns of San Jacinto, on April 21, 1836, the day Texas independence was won. She was an interesting talker and many times told of how the women of the Texas colony waited over the great-grand children field just after that historic conflict.

Mrs. Shook was present when General Santa Anna, the Mexican dictator, was brought before General Sam Houston, leader of the victorious Texans.

Up until a short time ago Mrs. Shook was in good health for one of her advanced years, and she was in full possession of her faculties at the time of her death.

Mrs. G. B. McLoughlin Dead.
Mrs. G. B. McLoughlin, daughter of Ed Barnes of Hewitt, died at Stamford Sunday, according to word received here yesterday. Besides her husband and father, she is survived by three brothers and four sisters. She had been a consistent member of the Methodist church for a number of years.

Pinkney Lacy Dies.

Pinkney Lacy, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Lacy, 925 South Fifth street, died at a local sanitarium at 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The funeral will take place at the family residence at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. O. E. Bryan officiating, with interment at Parkview cemetery.

D. R. Gunn Dies.

D. R. Gunn, 67 years old, died at midnight last night at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. George Darrah, Twentieth and Webster streets. He had only resided in Waco a few months coming here from South Texas.

Besides the daughter here, he is survived by another daughter Mrs. Robert Hartfield, Waurika, Ok. Funeral services will be held at the residence at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Waco Manufacturers to Meet Thursday and Plan Campaign
For the purpose of discussing the "Made in Waco" publicity campaign, a luncheon will be held at the State House Thursday noon, to which all the manufacturers of Waco are urged to be present. W. V. Crawford will, at this time, submit plans he has worked out for utilizing the $1000 subscription for the purpose of giving home-made products the widest publicity.

J. M. Penland, chairman of the home industry committee of the Y. M. B. L., is calling the meeting and is confident that the manufacturers will turn out in large numbers. Mr. Penland, Mr. Crawford and John F. Wright, the members of the Y. M. B. L. committee are none of them manufacturers, yet they have devoted a great amount of time to furthering the interests of those who manufacture various articles here.

Plans for securing a building at the Cotton Palace for the "Made in Waco" exhibit will also be discussed at this meeting. It is felt by the committee that this is the crucial time and that thorough advertising campaign should be begun now and definite plans agreed on for the exhibit at the Cotton Palace this fall.

Examining Trials Are Held at Both West and Moody

County Attorney John B. McNamara was at Moody yesterday and conducted several cases before Justice W. F. Routh. Basker Bell, a negro, was bound over to the grand jury on a charge of theft from person, his bond being fixed at $750. Assistant County Attorney D. C. Woods also made a trip to West yesterday, where he conducted the examining trial of C. G. Smallwood, charged with assault to murder. Justice John M. Moore binding him over in the sum of $500. It was claimed that Smallwood shot W. M. Clayton in the ear at a dance about a week ago.

Maccabee Minstrels Go to Waxahachie During Chautauqua

The Maccabee Music Makers have closed a contract to play at the Waxahachie Chautauqua on August 12. The offer was unsolicited, one of the members of the Waxahachie chamber of commerce, hearing the minstrels here and recommending that the Maccabees be secured. The minstrels rehearsed last night and will have several more rehearsals before going to Waxahachie.

No Hopes Held Out for Trott's Recovery

Fred Kingsbury, assistant county attorney, returned from Denver yesterday, where he was called Wednesday to the bedside of Eugene Trott, first assistant chief of the Waco fire department. Mr. Kingsbury says that physicians hold out no hope for Mr. Trott's recovery.

Will Draft New Note on British Order on Contraband Cargoes

Washington, July 26.—In announcing today the receipt from Great Britain of a reply to the American note of March 30, which protested against the British order in council and French decree of similar contents, Secretary Lansing stated that the dispatch of a new note to the allies on the subject, which has been under consideration for several weeks, would now be delayed until the latest communication from London was thoroughly studied.

With the sending of the note last week to Germany on submarine warfare the general impression given in official quarters was that the protest to Great Britain would go forward within another week. The arrival of a new note from Sir Edward Grey arguing at length in defense of the so-called blockade under the order in council has given the lawyers of the state department admiral phrases of the cases for examination.

The note which arrived from Ambassador Page does not, it is understood, reveal any important deviation in the argument already made by Great Britain, but lays emphasis on the policy pursued by the United States in the civil war as a precedent justifying the British position.

Legal experts believe here that the new British note does not affect the American position in insisting that non-contraband goods destined to or from a belligerent through a neutral country, is not subject to the rules of blockade.

In support of this the American government stands on the famous Matamoros cases in the civil war in which the United States supreme court ruled that the non-contraband portion of a cargo shipped from England to Mexico, destined to Texas, which then was blockaded, must be released, since a blockade could not be legally operated against neutral countries.

It is probable that Secretary Lansing will draft a new note on the entire subject, and submit it to President Wilson on his return to Washington.

Prof. T. L. Hamilton Elected to Chair at Decatur College

Prof. T. L. Hamilton, member of the Baylor university summer faculty, has been elected to the chair of English at Decatur Baptist college, succeeding Prof. W. L. Donoho, who goes to a similar position in the College of Industrial Arts at Denton. Prof. Hamilton was head of the science department at Sherman last year. He and his wife will have charge of the boys' dormitory at Decatur.

Chamber of Commerce Warehouse Committee Will Meet Today

The special warehouse committee of the chamber of commerce will meet at 10 o'clock this morning in the organization's rooms for the purpose of considering the present situation. Members of the committee are L. Mize, chairman; W. W. Woodson, J. R. Milam, E. F. Carroll and J. J. Powers.

Planning for Labor Day.

J. C. Hill, chairman of the Labor Day committee of the Central Labor Council, announced yesterday that preliminary arrangements for the celebration this year would be discussed at a meeting of the committee which will be held Wednesday night of next week. A particularly elaborate celebration is contemplated by the committee for this year, program for which will be completed at an early date. All unions in the city will combine for the Labor Day celebration, which is a holiday for all union workmen.

Bohemians Plan Building.

Plans for the Bohemian Labor Club in Waco were discussed at a meeting of members of that nationality held in the Maennerchor hall Sunday. Matters pertaining to the celebration of Bohemian day at the Cotton Palace were also discussed. The meeting was presided over by R. Parma, president of the local Bohemian society. Frank Chudek was elected secretary and F. H. Vortek, treasurer. A number of committees were also named.

MISS ROBERTA WRIGHT NAMES HER COMMITTEE

As general chairman of the better babies contest which closes with the grand baby show, ensemble, Miss Roberta Wright announces that during Cotton Palace season she will be assisted by a special committee. In the meantime, her standing committee is the Mesdames James Wright, F. J. Lennox and C. N. Smith.

TWO BENEFITS PLANNED FOR PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE

Despite the intense weather, so great is the interest among the women for the maintenance of a public health nurse, two have promised benefit entertainments. Mrs. Joseph Wren for the club women, has promised a musical just as soon as she can secure her contributors, and make ready her program. Later, Miss Emma Beer will rehearse and direct another of her successful juvenile entertainments.

If personal efforts and deep interest count, the nurse is assured this city. But, is it not rather unfair for the men to leave the brunt of this philanthropic burden upon the good women?

QUEEN'S BALL COMMITTEE IS NOW READY FOR WORK

Immediately the committee for the second Cotton Palace Queen's coronation and ball will become active. This committee is Blair Striding, chairman; Dick Smith, Ed Humphries and Harry Gorman, with C. H. Cox general advisor. For the coronation tableau, there will be the Holt Massey, chairman; Mrs. A. W. Koch and F. E. Carroll.

The first pleasurable excitement will come in curiosity over who is to be the Waco queen; next, who will be the king? After this, Waco will be interested in the parade program and the personnel of the Texas girls who will be in the queen's court, the honor guests of the city.

WOMEN ARE VERY ACTIVE FOR THE COTTON PALACE

The community at large has no idea how much work has already been done by the women in charge of departments for the Cotton Palace. It goes without saying that the first work is thinking, the laying out of plans, the systematizing of ideas; next comes the securing of capable assistants; and last, comes the furthering of details. The several chairmen are not idle by any means these midsummer days.

The general chairman, Mrs. W. O. Wilkes, is watching opportunity. She mingled with the Old Settlers for ideas in her children's pageant. She goes to the city and to Galveston to see what is being done there. As has been said, Mrs. A. W. Koch is on the alert in the north. Several Waco women now touring have written that they, too, are on the outlook. If the men are half as active, mentally and physically, as the women, the 1915 Cotton Palace will be far in advance of former years.

YOUNG WOMEN'S AUXILIARY MEETS THIS AFTERNOON

During the summer, the members of the Young Women's Auxiliary of the First Baptist church is meeting in the homes of members, and at a later hour than in the winter. Just now, the work in hand is sewing for the orphans in the Buckeye Home. The hostess is announced in the calendar for this afternoon. One of the last happenings was the election of officers, with Miss Grace Dyer president again. The other officers are: the Misses Hallie Jenkins, Aline Quicksall, Evelyn Boyd and Bianca McKenney. The last is treasurer, since Miss McKenney has served faithfully as treasurer for seven years.

On the second Tuesday of each month, the Y. W. A. holds business and social program at the church after 6 o'clock. This is opportunity for members who are in business to meet, enjoy the work, and keep in touch with what the Y. W. A. is doing.

THE WOODSON WHITE HOME IS THING OF THE PAST

In noting the mass of charred walls with the Woodson White home, which burned on Saturday evening, one can not refrain the reminiscent mood. While Mr. and Mrs. White have been residents of Havana for the past few years and while the family of interesting boys and girls has grown up and scattered into various homes, it is for the older members of society to recall the White home a synonym for the Old South's hospitality. At all times the latch string was without the door for the visiting guest. In addition, many times has society been entertained within these doors. Mrs. White as active member of the Woman's club, the Home association, and Saint Paul's Episcopal church was influential in the realm of life, as well as in the more passing enjoyment. The home has been rented since the removal from the States of the family but the old-time friends have never passed the White home, down on Speight street, that the memory of pleasant hours spent therein were not forced.

EXPOSITION CROWDS HAIL LIBERTY BELL

More and more we here are in hopes that the Henry Downs chapter may be successful in securing a visit from the famous Liberty Bell. When this cherished piece of history began passage from its permanent home across the continent the press heralded many interesting notes of its procedure, and the camera men gave pictures of the decorated car, of the guard of soldiers and of the Philadelphia concourse following the bell from Independence Square to the station.

It is now to tell what has happened since Liberty Bell is the guest of the San Francisco exposition. It is in the Pennsylvania building on the exposition grounds. The crowd, which had steadily increased all day, became unmanageable in size as the bell, banked in the crimson ramble rose, reached the great exposition plaza. It was received by the governor of California, and no less a noted American than Speaker Champ Clark. Automobiles parked and pedestrians further out in the street lined the entire route of the bell from station to exposition. Thousands of school children sang, as it passed, patriotic songs, and tossed upon the car garland after garland of flowers. The car bearing the bell arrived late, due to the officials said, because crowds all along the route blocked passage. Whistles all over the city and the changing of bells on every side to say nothing of a salute of guns, bands playing patriotic airs, and thousands of citizens, this was the reception to the Liberty Bell, that herald of liberty to our nation more than a century ago.

If it is the good fortune of the Henry Downs chapter to have the Liberty Bell a guest of our city, we must show no less patriotism than have the Californians.

Society Notes

During the month's absence of Miss Sallie Keith in Galveston, Mrs. E. E. Thompson has been soprano in Saint Paul's choir.

Mrs. Bland Brown of North Fifteenth street, is spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. W. O. Wilkes, on Washington street.

Having continued her visit from Marshall to Shreveport, Mrs. Hal Moody of Seventeenth and Morrow is at home with Sunday.

Miss Pauline McCoolley is taking her vacation from the library with the month of August. She will spend the time with her relatives in Kentucky.

During August the J. E. Allison home, Columbus Heights, will be closed. Mrs. Allison visits in Oklahoma, while Miss Mary Allison will be the guest of Miss Lillian Taylor, North Fifteenth street.

Now that one thousand names are available among the Old Settlers, why not the women organize into a Cotton Palace club, their purpose being to erect a cosy, comfortable log hut as Old Settlers' very own, during Cotton Palace season?

Since the destruction of their residence by fire, on Saturday evening, Mrs. W. H. Wood and Miss Mary Bell Wood are temporarily in the Scarborough residence, Eighth and Speight streets. They will secure another home as soon as possible.

When we pursue the doings of the pen of the cartoonist, let us recall that the very first of these exaggerated sketches was made by Thomas Nast, our own cartoonist. He quickly the cartoonist seized the American fancy.

Cards are arriving from Mrs. J. Ed Brown of Terrace Row. Mrs. Brown has the distinction of summering in Montreat, North Carolina, the resort which last season gave birth to the Ellen Wilson memorial, a movement already nation-wide among women.

If nothing more than the graceful weed from the garden, do keep the something fresh and green within the home. Besides being pleasing to the eye and imparting the atmosphere of refinement to the home, the sight makes you imagine yourself cooler.

When you read your next book, criticize it with these points in mind: Are the incidents plausible? Is the suspense abrupt or well sustained? Do the characters say and do natural things? Is your sympathy active from first to last? If so, you are reading a well-constructed book.

Mrs. Fayette Randall selected as her post card for the Morning News a very attractive view of the famous Mission Inn San Gabriel by moonlight. Mrs. Randall was agreeably surprised in the San Diego exposition, and the city, she pronounces well worth the run down to land's end of California.

After an operation for appendicitis, Mrs. Marcellus Sherwood has gone from Temple for a recuperative visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Holdeman, in Fremont, Ohio. As soon as Mrs. Sherwood's strength is restored, she with Mr. and Mrs. Holdeman, will motor through the east.

We note the appearance of famous pieces of art used frequently in business these days. The last was Millet's famous "Angulus" as letter-head of California Inc. called by that name. Just before, there was noticed the famous statue of Victory, the cherished possession of the Louvre, on one of the new records. In one way this is to be commended, for it brings the general public into familiarity with the great art of the world. In another, it decidedly cheapens that same art to see it in the most common places.

Mrs. Howard Lanham sends cards from Portland to say that she, with the little folks, is delightfully located, and had for Saturday guests Mr. and Mrs. Holloway Smith. The cottage at Portland is on a high bluff overlooking the bay where fishing and bathing are the chief pleasures, to say nothing of the arrival of the Morning News every morning before the noon lunch.

Miss Maud Brown of North Fifteenth street writes of novel yet none the less delightful experiences in her summer trip. She is with Houston friends on their ranch in the western part of the state, where all the novelty of "round ups," and all night dances with refreshments in wagon train from Fort Worth, are the order of special enjoyment.

In her visit with Chicago the nucleus for the summer, Miss Zoe Fitzhugh is having the summer sensation. She was in Chicago during the great strike, and is now experiencing the dreadful river tragedy. In the latter, Miss Frances Allison and Mrs. J. W. Bass are also concerned. The Messdames H. H. Shear, George Willis and Ben Grey Kendall reached the city just one hour after the dreadful accident.

Home friends have received some interesting kodaks from the M. Holdeman home in Fremont, Ohio. These are interesting because whatever pertains to Mr. and Mrs. Holdeman during their absence from Waco interests Wacoans. These kodaks show a stately, massive old home, with pergola, and a garden to be envied. The animate feature of these scenes are Mr. Holdeman, Mrs. Holdeman, and the father, June Holdeman, with the bounding grandsons. Mr. and Mrs. June Holdeman have been over from Indianapolis for a visit to welcome the parents from their extensive Pacific side tour, for which they left Waco in early May.

The additional precincts which came in yesterday were Crawford, Elk, Le Roy, Moody, Ross, McGregor, Goshen, South Bosque, Bruceville, Chalk Bluff, Levi, Goshen, Hallsburg, Hewitt, Elm Mott, Eddy, Whitehall, Windsor, Coke, Patrick, China, Springs, Downsville, Le Vega, Frost, Daguerre's Dairy, Auditorium, Battle, Patton, Robinson, Bell View and Speightsville.

Y M B L Siren Must Seek Another Home

The Y. M. B. L. siren whistle will have to seek a new home. The E. Nelson manufacturing company, Seventh and Mary, where it is at present, is installing electric motors, and the ear-splitting mechanism which has proved such a success in calling the Y. M. B. L. out on all occasions will have to be moved to some place where steam is used. The motors are being put in by the Texas Power and Light company.

All Amendments Lose in McLennan County

Practically complete returns from the election in McLennan county Saturday on the six constitutional amendments show that all of the propositions were defeated by decisive majorities, so far as this county is concerned. The Sackett resolution, which showed greater strength than any of the others, lost by almost 2 to 1.

The additional precincts which came in yesterday were Crawford, Elk, Le Roy, Moody, Ross, McGregor, Goshen, South Bosque, Bruceville, Chalk Bluff, Levi, Goshen, Hallsburg, Hewitt, Elm Mott, Eddy, Whitehall, Windsor, Coke, Patrick, China, Springs, Downsville, Le Vega, Frost, Daguerre's Dairy, Auditorium, Battle, Patton, Robinson, Bell View and Speightsville.

Notice to Subscribers.
Delivery routes in the City of Waco are in the hands of independent carriers, who buy their papers at wholesale prices. Subscription accounts are due them, not the Waco Morning News. They are under heavy bond, not only to give the best delivery service, but to pay for their papers each month. Their remuneration is the difference between the wholesale price and the retail price which they receive from subscribers. This margin of profit is such that they cannot afford to extend credit, except month by month. They are not required, and they are advised against, delivering the papers to anyone who does not pay in accordance with the above subscription terms. These carriers are all earnest, hard working men and they will appreciate any courtesy shown them.

The Morning News should be delivered throughout the city of Waco by 6:30 a. m., and subscribers failing to receive the paper at that time will confer a favor by phoning the Circulation Department, both phones 1132, and a copy will be sent by special messenger.

THE FARMERS' SHORT COURSE.

Dispatches from A. and M. College in the Sunday papers announced that demonstration agents from different sections of the state were en route to College Station with boys and girls, as well as adult farmers, who wanted to avail themselves of the instruction that will be given on various problems of the farm in the farmers' short course that opened Monday and will continue through the week.

This is a step in the right direction. As we have frequently pointed out, the best way in the world to reach the farmers in behalf of scientific agriculture and improved farming methods is through the boys of the farm, and the best way to reach the farmers' wives in better housekeeping and domestic science and economy is through their daughters. The boys and girls are not afraid of new ways of doing things; they have not become wedded to old methods and their ambition to do things better than their parents did leads them to try an experiment with confidence in its ultimate result. The boys who put in this week at A. and M. listening to the experts on such topics as "Livestock as the Basis for a Permanent Agriculture," "Selection, Management and Feeding of the Dairy Cow," "Why the Tenant Farmer Should Engage in Livestock Production and How This Can Be Accomplished," "Terracing Farm Lands to Prevent Erosion," "Agricultural Instruction in the Public Schools" and "Selection of Seed" will obtain ideas and practical suggestions that will make more efficient farmers of them in the years ahead. And there will be courses for the girls that will be just as practical and helpful to them in their work of keeping house and making the home attractive.

These boys and girls will learn a great deal from reading government bulletins and other literature prepared on such subjects, but the coming into personal contact with the men and women who are doing successfully those things in which the boys and girls of the farm are directly interested will be of much more value to them, for the personal element in instruction is about as large as it is in other fields. Some communities have made up money and sent their school teachers to the short course in order that they might be better equipped to instruct their children in the coming school year, and this is a good idea, but as many of the maturer boys and girls as can possibly attend this short course, especially where they cannot attend A. and M. College or the College of Industrial Arts for girls during the regular sessions, ought to do so and the county demonstration agents will do well to co-operate with the farmers to this end more fully another year.

Of course, the adult farmers ought to go, too, and we hope they will in increasing numbers, but it is equally important that the boys and girls of the farm go, for there is a larger likelihood of their remembering what they hear and putting it into practice than there is of their fathers' doing so.

Next week, Aug. 2 to 4, the Texas Farmers' Congress will be in session and farmers will find that meeting greatly to their advantage if they can arrange to attend.

Sir Thomas Lipton is a true sportsman. He is a foreigner and has always been outdistanced by Americans in the yacht races, but when disaster came to Chicago Saturday and took the lives of more than 1,000 men, women and children, Sir Thomas called his sympathies and $1,000. If all the foreigners of means and titles were of his stripe we would not mind dividing our American girls with them.

COLQUITT'S APPEAL TO CLASS PREJUDICE.

Ex-Governor Colquitt is one of the most resourceful politicians in Texas and has achieved many high honors in this state as a result of that fact. He is depending upon his resourcefulness to place him in the United States senate, and such a thing is a possibility, of course, but such blunt methods as he employed in assailing the national administration in his recent letter to K. P. Branch of Nacogdoches are not calculated to have that result.

Colquitt is essentially an anti-Wilson man. The two are men of widely different types and temperaments. Colquitt depends upon his impulses for guidance and Wilson upon his judgment. But the difference in the viewpoints of the two men does not count for as much with Mr. Colquitt, it would appear, as does political opportunism. Colquitt has known all along that his best chances for success in the senatorial election would be to rally his forces around the opposition to the president and his general policies. To this end he is leaving no stone unturned. "I have no quarrel personally with President Wilson," the ex-governor writes Mr. Branch, but it is noticeable that Mr. Colquitt has never found anything good in the Wilson administration, though he has found plenty of opportunities to criticize.

And what is the ex-governor's latest charge against the president? It is this:

"If Mr. Wilson would pay less attention to the way our very rich travel to the allies' land, and call congress together and get the power given to him to put an embargo on everything and then put it up to the allies that if they don't allow our cotton to go anywhere under the sun in anybody's ship, then we will put an embargo on stuff to them, then I think they would come across. The southern states gave Mr. Wilson his nomination and the northern states elected him, and it looks like he is trying to enrich the rich of the north, smash Germany and bankrupt the south," all of which charges are ridiculously absurd.

Isn't the life of a rich man just as sacred to its possessor as that of a poor man? Is the fact that an American has a fortune any reason why he is not entitled to the protection of the American flag? The trouble with Colquitt is that he is appealing to the class prejudice of the farmers in an effort to make them believe that President Wilson has not safeguarded their interests as well as he ought and that the remedy lies in sending Oscar B. to the senate to look after those interests for them.

But that is not all. The ex-governor would make it appear that the United States has not been neutral in its dealings with the foreign nations "our government," he wrote, "in enforcing our rights, and protecting our neutral rights, should not show favoritism toward one of these nations and bitterness toward another." He refers here, of course, to the action of President Wilson in holding in abeyance this country's controversy with Great Britain concerning the interference with neutral shipping in order that it might not interfere with the negotiations with Germany over the attacks upon American ships and the murder of American citizens at the hands of the German submarines. The paragraph quoted above is a clear bid for the German vote, and while it is true that the German citizens of this state have supported Mr. Colquitt in his past races, and may do so again, we hope they will have better reason for so doing than his very evident appeals to their prejudice.

Mr. Colquitt knows nothing of the problems with which President Wilson has to contend. If he were the loyal citizen that one who has been so frequently honored by the people of this state ought to be, he would be upholding the hands of the president instead of purposely trying to embarrass the chief executive at a time that he is particularly burdened with complicated affairs of state. The whole aim of the Colquitt disaffection is the selfish one of political advantage. Colquitt would settle a shipping controversy before he would a deliberate attack upon a passenger ship and the loss of over 200 American lives. According to the same logic, if a burglar should come along and rob a farmer of a bale of cotton and a few hours later a murderer should come along and kill the farmer's wife, the murderer should not be hunted until the cotton has been recovered and the thief punished.

Great logic this, but it's the kind of logic that Oscar B. Colquitt is dealing out to the Texas farmers, the Germans and others whom he hopes to rally into the anti-Wilson camp for his own political aggrandizement.

"Should make loans abroad with caution," reads the advice of a New York banker to his fellow money-lenders of this country. Having exercised such extreme caution in lending money at home we have an idea it will come second nature to the bankers to make sure such loans as are placed abroad.

"An abundance of money causes fear in the speculative market," declares a headline on the market page. In most other places, however, an abundance of money would allay all fears.

THE VALUE OF WARSAW.

To take Warsaw would be, of course, of great strategic advantage to the Teutonic armies, but it would be very far from accomplishing the conquest of Russia, declares the Nashville Banner.

Warsaw, the capital of Poland, is not in Russia proper, and the great bulk of the extensive Muscovite empire lies beyond it. Napoleon in 1812 pressed on to Moscow without considering Poland. A deputation from Warsaw came to him, beseeching that he "but say that Poland exists." He declined on the ground that to restore the liberty and integrity of Poland would be to deprive Austria and Prussia of territory they possessed. It is said he could easily have reconciled those powers by ceding them other territory, and that the real reason was he feared the republican spirit of Poland as a free country. "Poland must be a camp, not a forum," was his decision.

But the point in respect to the present condition is that he was looking to the conquest of Russia beyond Poland, and with that aim thought Poland of little consequence.

That part of Poland controlled by Russia appears now to be loyal to Russia. Germany and Austria cannot restore Poland without surrendering a considerable portion of their own domains. The conquest of Russian Poland and the occupation of Warsaw would place the Germans only on the outskirts of Russia.

If some foreign power attacking the United States should overrun and occupy all of Texas, the part of the country still free from invasion would be in smaller proportion to that occupied by the enemy than is Poland to the rest of Russia.

The Russians in the Napoleonic wars were easily defeated at Austerlitz and Friedland, fighting on foreign territory, and for a cause they did not well comprehend, but the invasion of their own country affected them profoundly. Napoleon expected, when he had reached Moscow, that the Russians would capitulate, and in that miscalculation he met disaster.

The Russian offensive tactics have so far failed. The Russians were driven out of East Prussia and out of Galicia. Warsaw may be taken, but a conquest of Russia has not even begun. It would be a tremendous undertaking, greater than in Napoleon's day.

If the czar is really determined to fight until his last mufik has expired, the war in that quarter will last for some time, no matter what may be the fate of Warsaw in the present campaign.

Alvin, Brazoria county, is a small town, but it is performing a very important function in this state just now in its preserving the big South Texas fig crop and there will be lots of good eating next fall and winter as a result of it.

With Attorney General Looney, State Treasurer Edwards and State Land Commissioner Robison all announcing that they will be candidates for re-election we are led to presume that there is little prospect of those holding seats at the pie counter taking a voluntary vacation.

The European situation has induced some of the typewriter factories to engage in the manufacture of war munitions, but a mere political scramble does not appeal to the pretty typewriterists who manipulate the machines for us. A little domestic scrap is the only kind of a contest that appeals to them at all.

B. E. Wagsener, the Atchison, Kan., attorney, who celebrated his sixty-eighth birthday by leasing all the picture shows in his home town and turning them over to the kiddies of the city for the day, is young in spirit if he is advanced in years, and here's hoping that he will be spared many more years for the dispensation of happiness among his fellows.

"Some one should be hung on account of the sinking of that pleasure ship at Chicago, but of course the sympathetic Texas press would object to the punishment on the ground that some guiltless person might be selected as the goat," observes the Temple Telegram. From which we might infer that the esteemed Telegram is not particular whether a guilty or innocent man is executed, just so the demand for an execution is satisfied. There are evidently some people living for whom the Telegram has reserved no flowers.

With the city, state and federal authorities working on the causes leading to the overturning of the pleasure ship Eastland at Chicago Saturday morning it certainly appears that the responsibility for the tragedy ought to be fixed and adequate punishment administered. We are not anxious to see somebody punished just to satisfy a popular clamor, but if criminal negligence led to the disaster the perpetrator of that negligence ought to be held to strict accountability in the hope of providing for greater care on the part of those who have in their keeping the safety of human life.

BARTON CORRECTS THE HOUSTON POST

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE SUPERINTENDENT SAYS SOUTH TEXAS PAPER GARBLED INTERVIEW

AN ORIGINAL WILSON MAN

Post's Presumption That Pros Are Enemies of President Entirely Gratuitous, Barton Declares.

To the Editor of the Houston Post: This communication should have been addressed to you some three weeks ago. It would have been but for my absence from the state attending the national convention of the Anti-Saloon League at Atlantic City, New Jersey, and an important meeting at Washington City.

On June 24th in response to his request, I accorded the courtesy of an interview to your reporter at Waco. He assured me that he wrote a perfectly fair report of what was said for reasons which I suppose were satisfactory to you. The interview was not published but instead there appeared in your editorial columns of June 25 what purported to be a private prohibition agitation for at least two years to come, and that those persons calling themselves democrats who would support a republican candidate for president on the prohibition plank in view of defeating the re-election of Woodrow Wilson, and, sweeping the democratic party into the Gulf of Mexico, to cease to masquerade in democratic clothes and attempt to enclose its councils.

I am not the keeper of the Post's editorial conscience. How it justifies its failure to publish the report of an interview made by the reporter and presumably with fair and just coloring, while it reshapes it in the editorial office, comments editorially upon the reporter's opinion, and draws unwarranted conclusions I do not know. It is presumed that all public journals who are actuated in a spirit of candor and fairness would publish the writer's opinion on a question. If the reporter gave a fair account of the interview, as I take it he did, no such interpretation as the Post puts upon it was justified, and I cannot understand its attitude.

For the edification and comfort of the Post, I am glad to say that the superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas, being the private citizen, was one of the first men in Texas to allow the use of his name for the nomination of Woodrow Wilson, that too at the time when the liquor interests of the state were diligently seeking to accomplish his defeat by the nomination of another candidate for the presidency. All things considered, possibly Woodrow Wilson has made the greater contribution to the public has ever had, and there was not a hint or a suggestion in my interview to its contrary. So far as I know he is the only president we have ever had who has declared himself in favor of state-wide prohibition.

Concerning the agitation against the saloon in Texas the Post speaks with such an air of assurance and authority as almost to deceive the elect. It is fully and frankly recognized that the Post and other pro-liquor journals, as well as the liquor dealers and other politicians, do not want the agitation against the saloon continued. It is very regrettable that they will have to be disappointed. The agitation against the liquor traffic in Texas will go steadily ahead until the last liquor shop is driven from the borders of the state. However much disappointed the Post may be, let it not be deceived or misinformed on this point. The people who see the enormity and the crime of our present situation will not rest day or night; they will not take counsel of their fears; they will not be the least intimidated by the threats of the brutal and criminal liquor traffic.

The interview given to the Post's reporter was a general discussion of the whole political situation and outlook, and especially of the rising tide of sentiment throughout the country against the "organized, commercialized, politicalized, demonized" liquor traffic. The reporter asked whether or not in the writer's opinion prohibition would be an issue in the next national democratic convention. To which I replied: "I don't know; I have no means of knowing; it would not be at all surprising as the tide of sentiment against the liquor traffic is rising everywhere." It was then asked what would be the result if it should be introduced and the democratic prohibition, which, of course, would be the same as going on record as in favor of the licensed liquor traffic. It was answered that this would mean inevitable democratic defeat, especially if the republican national convention should go on record as favoring prohibition, and as against the liquor traffic. The next question was, whether this would be true if President Wilson were renominated. The answer was: "Certainly it will be true no matter who is nominated. If the question of prohibition comes up in the democratic national convention, in the democratic opinion goes on record in favor of the liquor traffic, even though it nominate President Wilson, and if the republican convention should go on record as against the liquor traffic, Mr. Bryan yet has fair standing as a democrat even though out of the cabinet. While he was yet in the cabinet he wrote signed editorials in the commoner plain and emphatic than the writer in the interview under discussion.

Of course, I know the Houston Post is the keeper of the record and the soul of democracy, and has ample authority to decide who shall and who shall not "masquerade in democratic clothes" in Texas, but if the democratic party make itself the dumping ground in these times of enlightened and awaken public conscience when states and nations everywhere are divorcing themselves from all forms of evil, especially the liquor evil which is the mother of horrors, it will have itself to thank for its defeat. Nobody needs to recognize this more clearly, or sound it out more steadily than thorough, steadfast democrats. Nobody can be a true friend to the democratic party who advises such a course. It is amazing with what assurance and cocksureness the liquor people sometimes speak for democracy. As the Post's prejudiced and unjust interpretation has been quoted by a goodly number of papers throughout the state, I am taking the liberty of giving this to the press for such general publication as the press may wish to accord it.

With best wishes and kindest regards for the editor of the Post, and the full assurance that his interpretation was wholly unwarranted whatever his reason for the course pursued in the matter, I am Very truly yours,
A. J. BARTON,
Superintendent.

Humane Society's Activities for Two Weeks Just Ended

The report of the Humane Society for the past two weeks is as follows: The Humane Society is struggling and working as never before for a permanency and for effective results. We urge members to assist earnestly to further the cause. Waco is not up to the standard in humane work; not even as advanced as many smaller cities.

Many new-comers are showing a decided interest in our humane efforts. Even small boys report numbers of cases, an evidence that the work has extended to all ages.

The society pays the monthly pittance of $50 to keep an officer (with a family) on the streets. As he is not ubiquitous, the society would appreciate it to have aggravated cases reported to humane officers at city hall—leave calls when necessary as he is supposed to be there at intervals through the day.

Work most recently accomplished by the society is as follows:
Two mules badly treated—one worked and beaten by negro, blind and bleeding; subject to fine.
Two drivers given fifteen days for improvement of mules.

One mare ordered medical attention. Reprimand to driver of team belonging to prominent person.
A driver given notice to look after horse cutting into flesh of teams.
Attention called to rope cutting a yearling tied to wagon.

Owner given ten days to improve condition of horse.
Mule poor and sick, must have medical attention; ordered to veterinary for treatment.

Mule taken out on account of crippled condition.
Crippled horses, driven by prominent firm, ordered relieved from harness; another in dreadful condition also relieved.

Three horses beyond recovery and suffering; ordered killed.
One cat humanely disposed of.
One sore-backed, emaciated, crippled horse ordered rest.

Humane officer called to the country to relieve sick horse, which was dead on arrival.

Neglected horse ordered proper attention, with threat of penalty.
Small, weak pony taken from wagon and stronger substituted for the work—by request.

Horse with miserable sore, and two mules with mutilated shoulders, ordered rest and treatment.
Driver of large firm reprimanded for ill-treatment of his animals.

Three poor horses and one mule ordered out of harness until in better condition.
Negro driver reprimanded for wrong treatment of team.

A poor horse fell in Waco creek, Dr. Hodges, our veterinarian, pronounced case hopeless and the horse was humanely killed. A. R. McCOLLUM, President Humane Society. MRS. ARAMTIA BRANSON, Reporter.

John K. Strecker, Jr. Returns From Meeting of W O W at St. Paul

John K. Strecker, Jr., returned yesterday from St. Paul, Minn., where he attended the sessions of the supreme camp Woodmen of the World, an order of the W. O. W. district. Mr. Strecker reports an unusually enjoyable stay in St. Paul, with a number of pleasant entertainment features adding zest to the supreme camp sessions. These included boat races on Lake Minnetonka, Minnehaha Falls and other historic places in Minnesota of the character indicated by the name of the state, which in the original Indian tongue means "Land of Water."

Mr. Strecker was one of the few who were honored with initiation into the famous order of Ak-sar-ben at Omaha. A class of about fifty from those on the Woodmen special to St. Paul was initiated at Omaha on the trip to the convention city.

Because of Eczema. Itched Badly. Formed Hard Crusts. In Two Weeks Well.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My little boy's eczema began on the back of his head. It broke out in little pimples. They itched so badly that he would scratch until they would bleed. They formed hard crusts. His hair came out in bunches. He could not sleep at night. It was all over the back part of his head and neck. I was told it was eczema. He was treated for two weeks and got no better.

"My sister told me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I got a box of Cuticura Soap and Ointment for two weeks. He is entirely well." (Signed) Mrs. Vernie Grady, Gap, W. Va., Jan. 1, 1915.

SECOND NORMAL OPENS AT BAYLOR UNIVERSITY

NEARLY 250 ENROLL ON FIRST DAY OF SESSION AND MANY MORE EXPECTED.

President Brooks Leaves Today for Week's Speaking Tour Over the State.

The second summer normal opened very favorably yesterday at Baylor. Up to the close of the office at 3 o'clock the enrollment was very favorable compared with last year, and judging by the very successful first normal, it will be considerably larger than at that time. Several students have also returned for regular college work during the coming half term.

The state examinations for the first normal opened yesterday at 9 a. m. and a larger number enrolled than for any examination ever held in a Baylor normal. Up to 3 o'clock 243 had enrolled either to try for certificates or to attempt to raise the grade of the ones which they hold.

Superintendent Watts of Cameron, Texas, is in charge of the examinations which are being held in Carroll library building. The library will not therefore be open to readers during this week.

President Brooks will leave today on a speaking tour for the rest of the week. He will speak at reunions, picnics and other public gatherings at Kyle, Matador, Bonham and Cooper, where he expects to meet a large number of former students. Since these places are far separated, he will reach his appointments by night traveling.

He states that he is very much pleased with the excellent enrollment and success of the first normal and many students who have attended various normals over the south have told him that the Baylor normal was by far the best they had ever attended, particularly from the number of special attractions offered.

SAN ANGELO COUNTY
IN GOOD CONDITIONJ. M. PENLAND TELLS ROTARY CLUB OF RECENT TRIP TO WEST TEXAS.Congressmen Henry and Davis Pledge Support to Merchant Marine Legislation.

"Conditions out in the San Angelo country are the best they have been in ten years and everybody is prosperous," declared J. M. Penland, president of the Waco Drug company, and ex-president of the Waco Rotary club, in brief report of his visit there to the Rotary club at its weekly meeting at the State House yesterday at noon. "I have been making that section of the state for the last twelve years and my judgment that conditions are better there than they have been for the last ten years is verified by the opinions of the business men there. And one of the good things about the excellent conditions there is that that country lies in Waco's trade territory and we should go out after more business than we are getting from there, though we are getting a good portion of it already. I went out on a visit merely, but had a pleasant time and got a lot of business in addition and with but little effort."

The report of the good conditions around San Angelo was well received by the Rotarians, many of whom have received word that other sections of West and Middle West Texas are in excellent condition, having good crops of all kinds and suffering very little from the prevalence of the war.

Two Texas congressmen have pledged their co-operation to a movement inaugurated by the Rotary club looking to the creation of national sentiment upon the question of an adequate merchant marine and the bringing to bear of pressure upon congress at its next session to enact legislation to this end. James Hays Quarles, acting secretary, addressed a letter to all the members of the congress from Texas, advising them of the action taken by the club and requesting their support of such a measure, and favorable replies were received from Congressman Henry of this city and Cyclone Davis, newly elected congressman-at-large, while Jeff. McLennan, the other congressman-at-large, said he would be glad to give careful attention to the matter. Mr. Henry said that he had been committed to the policy of a merchant marine all along, that he supported the administration's ship purchase bill in the last session of congress, and that he would support at the next session a measure looking to the procuring for the United States of the greatest merchant marine in the world. Mr. Davis said a merchant marine measure would have his constant support.

Later replies are expected from the senators and other congressmen from this state.

Mr. Penland read a letter from Wallace Downey, director and treasurer of the United States Merchant Marine association, indicating the action taken by the Rotary club and setting forth some of the advantages that would accrue from the establishment of a merchant marine.

Will Pogue, toastmaster for the day, gave a humorous sketch of the development that had come to this section since he had known it, said that he was in favor of progress all along the lines and was not at all wedded to the old ways of doing things just because he formerly did them that way, and by way of conclusion suggested that the Rotarians give consideration to the question of accomplishing more definite results for the city and community than they had been doing in the past. Such an excellent organization should make itself felt more in the development of the city, he declared.

In the absence of P. B. McPeak, regular orator for the day, several impromptu speeches were called for. James Hays Quarles explained the defeat of the several constitutional amendments voted upon Saturday by the indifference of the masses of the people and the activity of certain political interests, which, hoping to prosper by the defeat of the suffrage amendment, sent out instructions to vote against all of the amendments.

Other impromptu addresses included brief remarks by Prof. B. B. Cobb, superintendent of public schools; Dr. Carl Lovelace, who has recently returned from a series of lectures at New York; Dr. I. L. McGlasson and Mr. Chambers, a visiting automobile man from Cameron. The last named speaker said business conditions were good in Miami county and that lots of cars were being sold.

The acting secretary announced that

AT THE QUEEN

THEDA BARA, AT THE QUEEN, WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY.

"THE DEVIL'S DAUGHTER."

Her kiss is death: her love, red flame,
That scorches like a white-hot brand;
But luring lightning in her eyes
Beckons to that forbidden land
Where blasted lives, like hollow skulls,
Lie whitening on the sun-bit sand.

Her paths are misoned wickedly:
By sunken souls that cry despair;
But hers the glance that breathes delight;
The Devil's Daughter: pass ing fair,
Has wrought her spell and filled her oath—
She triumphs to see her foals rot there.

The Devil's Daughter takes cruel toll,
Her blood-red lips are sugared lies
That lull her foals in her white arms,
And mock them in their parting breath,
And laugh to see their fell work done,
As, cursing, dupes go down to death.

At The Queen

Individual members of the club had received cards from President E. C. Nettles, Secretary H. M. Cox and Delegate E. P. Drake, who have been in attendance upon the International Convention of Rotary clubs at San Francisco.

Next Monday's program will include L. C. Puckett, toastmaster, and Ralph McLendon, orator, while W. D. Lacy Jr. had his time extended for a week in which to prepare the monthly address on some phase of Rotary philosophy.

HIPPODROME.

"The Rosary."

"The Rosary," the attraction at the Hippodrome for final showing today is a big picture, and its bigness does not rely on its length but on its artistic production, its inspiring theme, Collin Campbell's direction, the acting of Kathlyn Williams, Charles Cleary and Wheeler Oakman, and other elements which contribute to an altogether beautiful story, beautifully done.

"The Rosary" has gone the rounds of the world in story and song and is probably best known of any song or story. As a photoplay, it will make a strong appeal. The settings are alluringly fitting, whether in the old Ireland or New York, and the scenes are appropriate. Particularly interesting are the scenes surrounding the village home of young Brian Kelly, afterwards, Father Kelly. The interior of the home itself has the atmosphere of forty or fifty years ago in the southern or western part of Ireland.

The Selig company, who made this V. L. S. E. feature are renowned for exquisite settings. Movie fans were once wont to call Selig plays dream pictures. They had the atmosphere of paintings like those of Corot. They seemed to duplicate his mastery of foliage and sea added to the scenes.

"The Rosary" surpasses all previous Selig pictures in this respect. There is one pretty scene when young Kelly defends his little playmate and sweetheart. There is another in the fishing scene after the fray is over. There is still another when the girl welcomes the homecoming of young Kelly several years later. Referring again to the settings, one notices that when Father Kelly begins his life-work in the United States that the settings are just as carefully and appropriately selected as are the early ones supposedly in Ireland. The interiors of the Wilton mansion and Father Kelly's apartments in New York, and the exteriors showing the unfinished doorway of the Church of the Rosary are all worthy of intelligent appreciation. When it is remembered that most of these scenes are tinted, the fullness of the effect will be better appreciated.

The acting in "The Rosary" is excellent. Not since the portrayal of Harry Cashman, now deceased, in the role of a venerable priest in Essau's "Sunshine" three years ago, has there been a similar role so heart-touching as that of Charles Cleary in the part of Father Kelly. The gradual aging, which requires most artistic simulation, is most skillfully accomplished by Mr. Cleary, both in action and make-up. The characterization has the force of a mighty appeal for good, so deeply impressed upon the hearts of the saintly and noble character of this good man. Many fine heart touches are made by Charles Cleary here and there, by little bits of "business" which convey the delicate effects of light and shade in masterful portraiture.

Kathlyn Williams, it seems, can renew her girlhood at will, judging from her winsome impersonation of Vera Wallace in the strong emotional scenes between Bruce Wilton and his wife Mrs. Williams meets the requirements fully. Wheeler Oakman adds quite materially to his laurels by his impersonation of Bruce Wilton.

There are others in the production of "The Rosary," who deserve mention, but lack of space forbids.

Lenore Ulrich in "Kilmenny" Today. In presenting "Kilmenny" with Lenore Ulrich, star of "The Bird of Paradise," in the title role, the Oliver Morosco Photoplay company has found a powerful story for a powerful personality, and a powerful personality for a powerful story. It is doubtful whether so big a role as the little rich girl abducted by North of England gypsies at the age of 6 could have been "put over" by any less an actress than Lenore Ulrich, who has been taking the country by storm in Oliver Morosco's masterpiece of old Hawaii.

Starring in "The Bird of Paradise" the past two seasons, Lenore Ulrich's

AT THE REX TODAY.

Wm. S. Hart in "The Darkening Trail" and Charlie Chaplin Comedy.

The Rex is offering a double bill today, presenting two prime favorites in two of their best works.

"The Darkening Trail," Mutual Masterpiece, in four parts, presents Wm. S. Hart and his very capable cast of supporting players in a sterling story of love, romance and adventure. There are many thrills in this picture which will highly please all classes of movie fans.

Charlie Chaplin will cavort with "Patty" Arbuckle and the two will make merry in their comedy sensation, "The Rounders," seen in Waco on previous occasions and welcomed this trip as an adjunct to complete a good picture entertainment.

Dorothy Gish and Ralph Lewis are starring in "The Mountain Girl," Rex feature for Wednesday. It is an intensely dramatic episode of the California hills.

Henrik Ibsen's celebrated play, made famous by Rose Coghlan on the stage, has been pictured by the Majestic company under the personal direction of the master-director, David W. Griffith. Henry Walthall, Mary Alden and Thomas Jefferson are featured, having the support of an admirable cast of players. It is a drama of heridity, strong and virile. The regular Mutual program of three splendid reels of pictures will be shown also on that day.

Friday "The Mystic Jewel" with Lucille Young, Charles West, Signe Ave and Jack Conway will be the attraction augmented by the addition of other pictures.

"Enoch Arden" has been selected as the Saturday children's picture. It is deeper than a fairy tale, yet is from a classic poem that is universally studied in the schools and will create a profound impression on children of all ages. The poem should be read or the story told and explained by parents to their children, who will readily absorb and never forget Tennyson's immortal poem after seeing it at the Rex Saturday in what is said to be the most splendid and wholesome picture.

The manager of the Rex has decided

ORPHEUM.

"The Rosary."

Those who complain about the decadence of the drama can offer no sound criticism of "The Rosary," which will be the offering at the Orpheum theatre the first three days of next week, beginning Aug. 2. The Keyes sisters and players will offer the production at popular prices.

"The Rosary" is not a religious drama of the heavy sort, lacking in entertaining qualities. On the contrary, it is a delightful story of everyday life, in which the plot hinges upon the misery which comes into a household through circumstances which lead to suspicion and jealousy, and of a part which a priest, Rev. Brian Kelly, plays in bringing about a correct understanding. A rosary of pearls figures in the unfolding of the plot, and its final happening.

The Keyes sisters will open a two weeks' engagement at the Orpheum theatre, commencing Aug. 2, changing their plays twice a week. Prices will be 10-20-30c. Matinees Wednesday and Saturday, 10-20c.

Boost Waco!

A WACO DOLLAR SPENT FOR WACO MADE GOODS goes through a Waco Payroll to Wacoans, circulates generally around Waco, and may soon get back to YOU. Even if it doesn't, its influence does.

You still get a fair rate of interest on a dollar that you individually no longer own, but a dollar that Waco continues to own. To put it a little differently, part of the unearned increment of that WACO DOLLAR undeniably gets back to you as a Wacoan.

Send a WACO DOLLAR away through your dealer, paying an out-of-town institution for so-called "just as good" an article, and we both lose. That WACO DOLLAR is no longer for us then.

WACO MADE GOODS IN WACO HOMES means satisfaction to Waco citizens and balances in Waco banks.

MARKET REPORT

COTTON

New York, July 26.—News that an American freight steamer had been sunk by the Germans produced something of a sensation in the cotton market today and prices broke nearly $1.50 per bale under the close of Saturday. Fully half of this was later recovered when it became known that the vessel carried contraband and the close was very steady at a net decline of only 10 to 13 points. A good share of the buying on the decline was credited to spot houses and this encouraged an active covering movement by room traders who regained some of their confidence when assured that the Lelanaw incident was not likely to result in further complicating the international situation. Its chief significance lay in disclosing the exceedingly nervous temper of the market towards matters of this nature and supporting orders advanced while bears were correspondingly active on all hard spots. The market opened steady at a decline of 5 to 8 points in response to depression in the Liverpool market, but a recovery soon followed and up to the time that the sinking of the Lelanaw was announced the market displayed quite a steady undertone, chiefly on the government forecast continued dry weather in Texas and the southwest. A Memphis authority issued a condition figure of 78.2 against 80.5 last month and a 78.5 ten-year average by the government. This was considered rather bearish by the room trade, especially as it was confirmed by other authorities. Exports for the day were 7040 bales; so far this season 8,254,656 bales. Port receipts 6121. United States stocks 729,619.

New Orleans, July 26.—Cotton broke about a dollar a bale today on the news of the sinking of an American ship in the war zone. Later reports concerning the incident were less unfavorable and the market recovered about half the loss, closing at a net decline for the session of 10 to 12 points. For a while the market was active and selling was heavy, much long cotton being thrown overboard by frightened holders. In the early trading prices lost 6 to 7 points on hopes of rain for Texas, but the market met good support and the loss was quickly recovered. Buying was sufficient to put prices 2 to 3 points higher. Weather accounts were considered favorable and they helped prevent the market making a full recovery. The belief that the present weather conditions in Texas would lead to a large early movement was also against values.

WHEAT
Chicago, July 26.—Wheat turned decidedly weak today owing to big receipts and because of the sinking of the Lelanaw. Quotations closed unsettled at 2½¢ net decline. Other leading grades, too, all showed losses—corn 2½¢ to 3½¢, oats 3½¢ to 2½¢, and provisions 2½¢ to 7½¢.

Weakness in the value of wheat did not sink in until after the market had scored material advance, the result of rain. Further, light world shipments and announcement that the Italian government determined to buy large quantities of wheat abroad. It was expected by traders that the rainy weather would make deliveries of July contracts difficult. A different prospect, however, suddenly developed, when estimates were posted indicating that the arrivals of new wheat would prove more liberal than had been looked for. The actual total inspected was 443,000 tons against 315 cars on Saturday.

News that the Lelanaw had been torpedoed gave the market fresh impetus down grade, but the effect did not exceed the limits frequently reached in consequence of important weather and crop developments. Nevertheless, no important rally ensued, despite word from the board that 600,000 bushels had been disposed of these for export.

Decline in the corn market came about chiefly through sympathy with wheat. Country offerings, though, were fair and eastern demand less active.

In oats the call from shorts was soon satisfied. Something of a collapse in prices then took place owing to the heaviness of other cereals.

Stop loss selling carried pork to the lowest level since 1906. Lard and ribs were also under pressure, but not to such notable degree. The setbacks were largely due to the weakness of grain and hogs and the sinking of the Lelanaw.

Y M B L Directors Will Discuss Trip to Dublin Tonight

Trade trips past and future will be the chief subject of discussion at the meeting of the directors of the Young Men's Business League tonight. General Chairman Frank J. Trau will have a report of the trip to Tyler last week that will show the firm hold on the merchants of the city and the citizens of the towns surrounding Waco. Progress of the arrangements for the trip to Dublin on Thursday of next week will also be reported by Chairman Trau.

President J. J. Hutchison will also name the committee that is to work up a state meeting to inaugurate a campaign to induce the United States congress to establish an adequate merchant marine under the Stars and Stripes. Decision to hold the state meeting was the outcome of the discussion of the resolution favoring the merchant marine which was presented at the last meeting of the directors by W. W. Woodson. It is planned to interest Governor Ferguson in the movement and to induce him to call a conference of governors to consider the merchant marine problem.

Reports from Dublin are that the business men and citizens of that city are making elaborate preparations to entertain the Waco trade trippers when they reach that city on the afternoon of Aug. 5. The special train to Dublin is expected to prove even more popular than the Tyler trip on account of the easier hours. The train will reach Dublin not later than 3 o'clock in the afternoon, staying four and a half hours for rest and enjoyment before the train starts back at 7:30. The trippers will reach Waco on the return about 10 o'clock.

MAYOR FILES VETO SELEY PARK PROJECT

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATION GIVES EIGHT REASONS FOR ACTION TAKEN.

ENOUGH PARKS HERE NOW

J. W. Rigbins Says Reservoir Site Should be Sold and Artesian Well Sunk.

That the city has already enough parks, that the reservoir property on Colonial Hill should be sold by the water commission and the money used to sink another artesian well, and that the gift of Col. W. W. Seley of land adjoining the reservoir on a park is not sufficient to justify donating the reservoir property and maintaining the park thus created, are the principal reasons given by Mayor Rigbins for vetoing the park resolution passed unanimously by the city commission last Friday afternoon.

The mayor's official communication was written before his departure for Galveston last Wednesday night, but was filed with City Secretary John C. Davis yesterday morning. The mayor's veto of the proposition will be acted upon at the meeting of the city commission Friday afternoon. The commission has already passed the resolution to sell the reservoir property and sink an artesian well, and the remaining three commissioners voted unanimously to accept the offer of the water commission and the money of the three commissioners, the park proposition will be accepted over the mayor's veto at the meeting of the commission Friday afternoon.

Following the veto filed yesterday morning with the city secretary: "Honorable Commissioners, City of Waco: Gentlemen—I respectfully approve of accepting what is known as the reservoir property from the water commission with the condition that it be made a park, for the following reasons:

"1. Because Waco has already ten parks and has expended in the purchase and maintenance within the last year $50,000 for parks in Waco, not directly under the present administration but because of contracts that were made before I went into office, which have been carried out.

"2. Because in this transaction Waco is practically spending money for a small tract of land valued at $12,000, which I am reliably informed if sold would enable the water commission to sink another artesian well and thus greatly reduce the water rate in Waco. Water rates reduced would benefit all Waco and not a few in one locality, as would be the case in buying the park. "3. Because the second ward already has a good park known as the Sul Ross park, and the land supposed to be devoted to the proposed park is not in the Sixth ward, but is located in the Sixth ward it should be near the center of same instead of across the street on one edge.

"4. The citizens of Colonial Hill have already been giving of Bosque boulevard and the erection of an expensive fire station, and I do not consider that that particular locality has any claim on the city to take from the taxpayers and ratepayers a sum of $12,000 which could be so much better spent as stated.

"5. Because I do not think that the citizenship of Waco should be called upon to sacrifice or pay for a park in order to enable one man to perpetuate the name of his father. We commend Col. W. W. Seley for his loyalty to his father's name, especially so when his father bestowed upon him such great wealth which would enable the son to give a park to the city bearing his father's name without so great a proportion of the cost being paid by the taxpayers of Waco.

"6. Because the land proposed to be given to Col. W. W. Seley as a part of this park is assessed by the city at $3,500. It is perhaps worth $5,000, and I do not think the gift itself is commensurate nor does it demand such consideration from the less fortunate taxpayers of Waco to justify its contribution such a large proportion of money in such a cause.

"7. Because the people of Colonial Hill are in good circumstances and either have conveyances or the financial ability to visit either Sul Ross or Cameron park, and there is no immediate demand why we should locate a park at this time.

"8. Because our taxpayers are already burdened with all the taxes they want to pay and more, too, and to buy or appropriate this piece of ground and keep the water commission from the money it would bring, by which they would be able to reduce the water rate is unfair, and especially at this time when we don't need the park and the water company needs the money they could get from the property, and we do not have to contribute that much to perpetuate the memory of one man when his son is rich and able to buy the ground and maintain a park without calling upon the less fortunate taxpayers to help.

"It would be utterly inconsistent with the policies advanced as a candidate as well as since I have been mayor, insisting upon strictly business methods and avoiding unnecessary expenditures of the people's money, and I therefore ask you to reconsider your vote, and let us work together for the wage earner and taxpayer rather than a few who would be beneficiaries of the people's money.

"Very respectfully,

"J. W. RIGBINS, Mayor."

Police Get Negress Who Entered House of Chas. N. Vincent

Corene Green, negro woman, was arrested yesterday by Detectives Craven and Brandon, charged with entering the residence of Chas. N. Vincent, 510 South Fifth street early Sunday night. The negress was identified by Mrs. Vincent as the person discovered by her in the house, and who then ran from the house and escaped. Police stated that the negress confessed after being identified by Mrs. Vincent. Nothing was stolen from the house, the intruder being discovered soon after she had entered through a window.

What Thin Folks Should Do To Gain Weight

Physician's Advice for Thin, Undeveloped Men and Women.

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs, who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food-fads, physical culture stunts and rub-on creams, resign themselves to life-long skinniness and think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered regenerative force makes fat grow after years of thinness, and is also unequalled for repairing the waste of stress, nervousness and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable discovery is called Sargol. Six strength-giving, fat-producing elements of acknowledged merit have been combined in this peerless preparation, which is endorsed by eminent physicians and used by eminent physicians and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient.

A scientific systematic use of Sargol should produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of digestion and by supplying highly concentrated fats to the blood. Increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten, and the additional fats that thin people need are supplied. Powers-Kelly Drug Co. and other leading druggists supply Sargol and say there is a large demand for it.

While this new preparation has given splendid results as a result of a nerve-tonic and revitalizer, it should not be used by nervous people unless they wish to gain at least ten pounds of flesh.

NEGRO MUST WORK OUT HIS OWN DESTINY

SO DECLARES CHIEF GRAND MENTOR DAY IN OPENING ANNUAL TABORIAN SESSION.

HALL IS DEDICATED TO ORDER

Many of Visitors Are Camping at Park—Concert is Given in Evening.

"The negro is no longer considered a baby in this country, but a full-grown man, and as such he must work out his own destiny," declared Chief Grand Mentor C. E. W. Day in calling to order the twenty-eighth annual session of the grand temple and tabernacle of the Knights and Daughters of Tabor yesterday morning in the Taborian park.

"The world is not asking the young negro today, Who was your father or mother, or what could they do? but it is up to you to answer this question. You must do your work and do it well or you will find yourself out of a job. The Knights and Daughters of Tabor stand for self-help, and we hold up to you and all of our young people the doctrine of industry, honesty and reliability, backed up by thrift as the key to the situation."

Chief Grand Mentor Day pointed out the many avenues opened to the Texas negro, and he was proud that many of them were taking hold of them and making good. He spoke of what the order was doing for the race. It is the largest negro organization in the state, and continues to grow. Standing next to Dr. Day is the chief grand scribe, Prof. S. S. Reid of Marshall, who is one of the best noted educators in the south, and a man of rare ability. For a number of years he has been connected with one of the foremost institutions among negroes in the United States, Wiley university.

Grand Session Opens.

The grand session opened yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in convention form with C. E. W. Day presiding. Music was rendered by the choir of St. Paul A. M. E. church, of which Rev. W. D. Miller is pastor. Rev. J. H. Swain, pastor of St. James M. E. church, made the opening prayer. Representing the city of Waco, Hon. Mr. Taylor extended welcome to the visitors to the city. He congratulated the negroes upon the progress they had made, and with the banner flying he felt that their coming to the city meant a happy and prosperous session, and hoped that great good would be accomplished by them. He wanted that the negroes would join in putting out the liquor and closing the saloons.

To this address, W. E. King, editor of the Dallas Express, the leading negro paper in the south, responded. He was delighted to hear words of greeting coming from the white citizens of Waco to a people who believed in law and order. "We accept of all you say, and will do our duty at all times," he said. "We are trying to get rid of lawlessness and have often appealed to you to get your people to help us in our struggle. Since the kind words come from you, we feel that we will have your help in the future. We are sure that you mean all you have said. We will expect greater things in the future."

More Than Thousand Sing.

R. D. Evans was the next speaker for the colored citizens and he spoke words of welcome. J. M. E. Vance of Marshall responded. J. S. Henry represented the local temple in words of welcome. The response being by W. J. Mann of Weimer. The tabernacles were represented by Dtr. Violetta Cannon; response by Dtr. C. N. Golden of Wharton. Ira Ford represented the tabernacles; response, J. C. S. Bunn of Paris.

For the tents, Dtr. Mable Johnson extended welcome, and response was made by Dtr. F. K. McPherson of Galveston.

Led by Dtr. Lucy Wallace, 1,200 persons sang "Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone and All the World Go Free."

Daisy D. Booker of Indianapolis, Ind., representing a home for faden girls of which she is founder, was introduced and made a short address. She was delighted, she said, to see the grand temple and tabernacle, the largest grand body of a state that she had ever attended. "You are doing the right kind of work; work that God Himself is pleased."

Great preparations are made for the entertainment of the visitors during the week. The guard are camping at the park, and are fed by the local temples and tabernacles with H. Hawthorne as chairman of the committee. Associated with him are William Henry, J. W. Ford, M. D.; G. L. Wiley, H. L. Smith, M. D. Sylvester. Piece has charge of the Taborian car. He is one of the leading local workers.

Hall is Dedicated.

The feature of the session yesterday afternoon was the dedication of the hall to the work of the order. This was done by Vice Grand Mentor E. M. Fisher. In this work he was assisted by Dtr. Maggie Collins of Dallas, B. G. Adair, Corsicana; Dtr. Hattie Curdendall, San Antonio; C. B. Farris, Houston; S. B. Miller, Fort Worth; J. S. Adair, chief grand orator, Corsicana, and the Palantine Guards, from Houston, Galveston, Texarkana, Henderson and Waco, took part.
